Players rotate in a clockwise direction and serve when they are in the right back position. The libero (wearing a different color jersey) may take the place of any of the three back row players and does not count as a team substitution.

The diagram to the left details NCAA women's volleyball rotations as well as a breakdown of the six positions on the court. Additional information regarding terminology and scoring is also available.

TERMINOLOGY AND SCORING:
As of 2008, the NCAA coaches have decided to change the terminology "game" to "set" - so matches consist of the best three-of-five sets. In addition, instead of rally scoring to 30 points in the first four sets, sets are played to 25. The fifth set will be rally scoring to 15 points. Both changes were made to mirror international volleyball.

POSITION BREAKDOWN:
MH: Middle hitter, generally attacks from middle front
Opp.: Opposite or right side hitter, generally attacks from the right front
DS: Defensive Specialist, a substitution in the back row for serving, passing and defensive purposes
S: The setter generally handles the second contact to distribute the ball to the hitters, may only attack and block when in the front row
L: Libero, a back row player concentrated on passing and defense who can serve, but may not attack the ball above the height of the net; wears a different colored jersey to help distinguish, "on-the-fly" entry into the game.

Following a year that brought some of the highest highs, Penn State women's volleyball once again hits the court in 2014 as the defending NCAA national champions. Having rallied past then-No. 12 Wisconsin in four sets in the first-ever all Big Ten NCAA national final, the Nittany Lions are fresh off their sixth national championship crown in program history.

With the taste of victory still fresh, Penn State also enters 2014 without a trio of standout student-athletes who were instrumental in the Nittany Lions' fifth national crown in the last seven years.

"We graduated Deja McClendon, Ariel Scott and Katie Slay, who together, earned 10 All-America awards during their careers here," head coach Russ Rose said. "That is more than some teams have had in the history of their program."

The 10 All-America honors are just a few of the many awards garnered by the three Nittany Lions who etched their names all over the record books throughout their four-year careers at Penn State. McClendon capped off her collegiate career as the only four-time All-American in this year's class, making her the fifth four-year honoree in Penn State program history.

Scott and Slay each earned their third consecutive All-America honor, led by Scott's first team honors and Slay's third team recognition. While McClendon and Scott both concluded their careers with more than 1,000 kills, Slay also joined elite company as one of only seven Nittany Lions in history to record more than 500 blocks.

"We were fortunate for what we achieved with those three and now we have to try and replace them," Rose said.

Replacing McClendon, Slay and Scott will be challenging, and Rose does not view the three departures as easy voids to fill.

"I don't think you can replace the success and passion they offered," Rose said. " I think as a coach, what you do is you look at every team as providing pieces to a puzzle and your goal is to try and place the players in the best positions for the team to be successful and for them to improve."

Pieces of the puzzle is exactly what the Nittany Lions have on their side, as the legendary coach, who is upon his 36th year at the helm of the program prepares to enter the 2014 season equipped with both experienced veterans, as well as one of the most heralded freshman classes in recent history.

Fresh faces on the court are not the only new additions this year, as a new staff joins Rose for the 2014 season. Following the departure of five-year assistant coach Kaleen Davidson, Stevie Mussie joins Penn State as an assistant coach after serving as in the same role at the University of Virginia.

Penn State women's volleyball gained more momentum shortly after Mussie's hiring as former All-American and Nittany Lion assistant coach Salima Rockwell re-joined the staff as associate head coach after spending the past five seasons at Texas.

SETTER

FAMILIAR FACES
After setting Penn State to a national championship victory in 2014, Micha Hancock returns for her final season in the Blue and White. AVCA First Team All-American earned her second consecutive Big Ten Setter of the Year award in 2013 before recording an explosive performance from the endline to earn NCAA Tournament Most Outstanding Player of the Year honors.

Among many more accolades, Hancock totaled five Big Ten Setter of the Week honors in 2013. She also spent several weeks as the nation's leader in aces per set, on her way to sole possession of first place on the Penn State all-time list with 254 career aces, surpassing Ellen Hensler, who previously set the record in 1986.

"Micha is one of the most prolific players in college volleyball, especially when you realize that she does most of her damage from the endline. She's a great server, an incredibly competitive human being who is mentally tough and I think she's improved dramatically as a setter. I look forward to seeing how Salima will polish Micha up as she goes into her senior year," Rose said.

LEGENDS IN THE MAKING
Joining Hancock at setter this season is incoming freshman Bryanna Weiskercher. Tabbed the No. 13 recruit in PrepVolleyball.com's "Senior Aces" list, the fully trained setter helped her club team to a pair of AAU championships, picking up 2013-14 Under Armour All-America honors.

"I thought Bryanna was clearly one of the top setters in club and school play last year. She is a confident, well-trained setter and leader who does some things really well. She has great hands, good control of the ball and she's been setting for a long time," said Rose.

MIDDLE HITTER

FAMILIAR FACES
Following the departure of three-time All-American Katie Slay, senior Nia Grant emerges as the most experienced Nittany Lion returning at the position. With the ability to play multiple front row positions, returning redshirt junior Aiyana Whitney could also see some time at middle. Despite seeing limited action in her rookie campaign, sophomore Kelly Robertson rounds out the group of returning middles.

Grant earned her first AVCA honor in 2013 earning All-America honorable mention distinction after starting 33 matches in 2013. She amassed 208 kills, averaging 1.76 per frame. Her .350 hitting clip closed out the year as the second best on the team, while also ranking fifth in the final conference standings. Grant also proved to be a serving threat this year, totaling 23 aces to finish second on the team in the category.

"Nia has continued to develop each year," Rose said. "Last year was the first year she was recognized as an honorable mention All-American. At times she was first in the conference in hitting percentage, so I'm not surprised that she is starting to get recognized by the opposing team's coaches. She's an explosive offensive player and we need her to be a stronger leader on the floor."

Coming off of a redshirt season, Whitney saw action in 32 sets for the Nittany Lions in 2013, tallying 42 kills, eight digs and 12 blocks.

"Aiyana is, at times, our best net player, but there comes a time when expectations have to be met," Rose said. "I could not pin-point what position she'll likely play because it could be any of the front row positions. My expectation is not only that she should be able to do it, but also, that she should be able to do it at a really high level."

Robertson saw action in three matches in 2013, including two conference contests. She highlighted the year with two kills and two blocks in her collegiate debut against Albany.

"Kelly is a strong athlete who I hope has made the transition from her freshman year to her sophomore season. She didn't play much, and it was tough because she was behind people who were better but there's time in practice where she does well and competes hard."

LEGENDS IN THE MAKING
Incoming freshmen Haleigh Washington and Heidi Thelen will look to make in impact in 2014 as the two newcomers to the position.

Tabbed the top recruit in the country, Washington brings size and a bright personality to the squad. Thelen was selected as the No. 61 recruit nationally in PrepVolleyball.com's "Senior Aces" list.

The 2012 Colorado Volleyball Player of the Year, Washington captured the state Gatorade Player of the Year award after earning 2013-14 Under Armour First Team All-America honors. Thelen was also a 2013-14 Under Armour honorable mention All-American.

"Haleigh has a vibrant personality and I know she will hit some great balls as a freshman and also learn how good college blocking is," Rose said.

"Heidi is a player who we have had in camp for a number of years. She's played most of her game as a middle and I think her strength is her blocking. I know she plays hard."

OUTSIDE HITTER

FAMILIAR FACES

The outside position has the most openings following two departures, as Penn State will look to replace multi-year All-America seniors Deja McClendon and Ariel Scott. McClendon, a four-year All-American, will likely be the toughest spot to fill, as she made solid contributions both offensively and defensively during her career.

"We don't have a lot of multi-faceted players who were like Deja and Megan, in that they can pass, block, defend and attack," said Rose. "Right now we possess pieces of that puzzle. Some attack better, some block better, some are better at the net and we'll need to put them into a variety of situations to see who develops the most."

Having started all 36 matches in 2013, junior Megan Courtney returns as the Nittany Lions' most experienced outside attacker. Both Whitney and Robertson could also be potential options at outside for Penn State this season.

Courtney concluded the year ranked third on the team with 297 kills, averaging 2.47 per set on .272 efficiency. Defensively, her 2.51 digs per frame and 0.73 blocks also ranked third on the squad.

"Megan came in as one of the best all-around players that we've recruited and after a couple of years, I still feel the same way about her," Rose said. "She's a terrific player who I think can play both the right side and the left side position. She's a good ball handler, a smart attacker and a strong blocker with good vision."

LEDGENDS IN THE MAKING

Incoming freshmen Ali Frantti, Simone Lee and Nia Reed enter the mix this year at the outside position. Frantti leads the way as PrepVolleyball.com's No. 2 recruit in the country while Lee was selected No. 8 and Reed No. 12. The list of high school and club accolades for this trio is quite lengthy, featuring numerous honors. All three earned their state "Gatorade Player of the Year" honors as well as 2013-14 Under Armour All-America honors.

As a two-year team captain, Frantti helped guide her high school team, Richmond Burton to a state title in 2013.

"I think Ali has the potential to be an All-America college volleyball player," Rose said. "She has a good arm, great range, and hits from a high contact point. She is also refreshingly focused on being a good volleyball player and not afraid to compete."

Lee was also a two-year captain of her high school squad at Menomonee Falls, having guided the Indians to a WIAA state championship title in 2013.

"Simone is physically strong and a great blocker," Rose said. "I think that both her and Ali have good experience as primary passers and attackers, and will both provide needed depth at this position."

Hailing from the same high school as graduating senior Ariel Scott, Reed was a four-year starter at Immaculate Heart Academy where she led her team to four consecutive non-public state championships.

"Nia Reed is athletically off the charts in some areas," Rose said. "She touches close to 11 feet, she is very strong in the air, so much of her ability to perform at this level will be based on how she transitions to playing with better players and higher expectations."

DEFENSIVE SPECIALIST/LIBERO

FAMILIAR FACES

Rising senior Dominique Gonzalez returns for her final season to lead a very deep group in the back row. Including Gonzalez, the group features senior Lacey Fuller, juniors Lara Caraway and Kendall Pierce as well as sophomores Laura Broerman, Taylor Krause and Carley Muller.

After starting all 36 matches at libero in 2013, Gonzalez has established herself as the starting libero for the last two consecutive seasons. This year, she led the team with 3.28 digs per set, while also serving up 18 aces to finish third on the team in the category. She's also just four digs shy of hitting the 1,000 career digs mark, as she's presently totaled 996 in her career.

"Dom knows what she has to do defensively to give us the best chance to succeed," Rose said. " She has played a similar role since she came in as a freshman libero and what she needs to continue to embrace is the importance of leadership and getting the younger players to be aware of the expectations for the future as well as continuing to keep her game strong as a passer."

Fuller has also established herself as a solid defensive option, having seen action in 118 sets in 2013. Having seen time on the court in critical situations throughout the year, Fuller tallied 141 digs, averaging 1.19 per frame, while also adding 12 aces.

"I think Lacey has had a great career at Penn State," Rose said. "She's always played hard and she comes in with the type of fighting attitude that I especially embrace. I expect bigger and better things from her final year. I expect her to be a more instrumental server, to continue to give great effort in the back court and hopefully she can provide some guidance to some of the young players as well."

LEGENDS IN THE MAKING

Freshman Lainy Pierce and freshman transfer Skylar Dykstra are two potential new faces in the back row. Pierce recently guided her high school team, Eden, to a state championship earning MVP honors along the way. Dykstra joins the team after redshirting her freshman indoor volleyball season at UCLA.

"Lainy led her high school to a state championship at the setting position, but I've also seen her play club ball at the libero position and at outside hitter," Rose said.

"She has a full array of skill and an understanding of the different positions so hopefully we can find the spot where she can give us the best chance for success."

"What I like about Skylar was that when I saw her in club she was a very strong all-around player who played hard all the time," Rose said. "I thought she was significant in her court presence and she was involved in the welfare of her team, not just playing the game."

Record-breaking. History-making. Legendary. All of those words can be used to describe the tenure of Penn State women's volleyball head coach Russ Rose in Happy Valley. Entering his 36th season at the helm of the Nittany Lion squad, his name has become synonymous with the pride and tradition of the program. The leader of arguably the most successful women's volleyball program in the country, Rose continues to pass along the confidence and character he has gained during his career.

In 35 seasons at Penn State, Rose has collected wins at a staggering pace. Never having posted fewer than 22 wins in a season, he enters the 2014 season as the NCAA leader in career winning percentage, having won more than 86 percent of the matches he has coached at Penn State. He is just the third active Division I head coach to reach 1,000 career wins, having reached the milestone with an NCAA National Semifinal victory against Hawaii in 2009, a victory which earned the Nittany Lions a spot in the NCAA Championship match. Since then, he's amassed another 125 victories, which puts him just four wins shy of tying the all-time record for career triumphs.

While he prefers not to focus on personal accolades, Rose's accomplishments have continued to grow across each year. In 2013, Rose guided Penn State to its sixth NCAA national championship in program history, which ties Stanford for the most women's volleyball national titles by a single school. The 2013 title also marks the fifth women's volleyball national championship for Penn State within the last seven years. Following the 2013 championship and the program's 16th Big Ten title, Rose earned his fifth career AVCA National Coach of the Year Honor. In 2007, Rose was one of three coaches inducted into the American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) Hall of Fame, as he picked up his fourth DI National Coach of the Year honor. He was also tabbed the AVCA Mideast Region Coach of the Year and the Big Ten Coach of the Year by both the coaches and the media. He garnered all three awards again in 2008 in leading his team to its third NCAA title. In response to the awards, Rose focused the praise back on his teams.

"It's a great honor to be recognized by the governing organization of your sport," he said with regards to the Hall of Fame induction. "It's an individual award given to a coach of a team sport, so it's a reflection of the numerous players and staff, and the commitment the university has made to give us an opportunity to compete at a high level and have success."

Others also realize the impact that Rose has had on the volleyball community, not only in Pennsylvania but across the country.

"Halls of Fame are reserved for those who have done exceptional work for a long, long time," said AVCA Executive Director Kathy DeBoer. "These candidates are the best of the best, and credit Russ Rose with putting Penn State and the East on the volleyball map. His national championships, his remarkable string of elite teams and his parade of homegrown All-Americans have all contributed to making volleyball a national sport." It was Rose's parade of homegrown All-Americans and their supporting cast that have helped the Nittany Lions on their historic run from 2007-2010. It was four of those homegrown All-Americans that aided Rose and the Nittany Lions in capturing the NCAA National Championship in 2007 by outlasting Stanford in five sets in Sacramento, Calif. Juniors Nicole Fawcett and Christa Harmotto and sophomore Megan Hodge earned AVCA First Team All-America honors while sophomore Alisha Glass picked up AVCA Second Team All-America accolades. Penn State finished the year with a 34-2 record and did not lose a contest after Sept. 15, dropping only 18 sets in the entire season. The Nittany Lions ended the season ranked first in the country in hitting percentage, attacking at a Big Ten-record clip of .350, good for second all-time in the Penn State annals. The Nittany Lions also continued their dominance of the Big Ten, posting a perfect 20-0 record and capturing their fifth consecutive outright conference title, a feat never before accomplished by a volleyball squad. Harmotto earned Big Ten Player of the Year honors by annihilating the conference record for hitting percentage. She attacked at a .492 clip for the year to top the previous record of .455 set in 1986.

The Nittany Lions improved upon 2007's result the very next season not just by winning their third national title, but becoming only the sixth team to win back-to-back national titles and only the fourth team to manage it while going undefeated. The 2008 squad featured an entire starting front row of AVCA All-Americans, including first team honorees Harmotto, Fawcett (AVCA National Player of the Year), Glass and Hodge and second team honorees Blair Brown and Arielle Wilson. The 2008 team finished the season with a perfect 38-0 record. The Nittany Lions continued their streak, winning a record-breaking 111 straight sets on their way to the title, and entered 2009 on a NCAA record-breaking 64-match winning streak. The Lions finished 2008 setting a rally-scoring era record for hitting percentage with a mark of .390. It is the second-highest percentage of all time for any era. Penn State once again dominated the Big Ten finishing with a 20-0 record for the fifth time. The squad had five First Team All-Big Ten honorees and Fawcett was named PSU's 18th Big Ten Player of the Year.

Back-to-back national titles weren't enough for the Nittany Lions who became the first team in Division I women's volleyball history to win three in a row with a come-from-behind triumph against No. 2 Texas in 2009. Led by four returning All-Americans in Hodge, Glass, Wilson and Brown, Penn State finished with a 38-0 record for the second straight season extending their record-breaking winning streak to 102-consecutive matches. Never in NCAA history has a team posted consecutive 38-0 seasons. In 2009, Hodge, the AVCA National Player of the Year and Honda-Broderick Cup Co-Winner, Glass, Wilson and Brown all picked up first team All-America honors and Wilson shattered NCAA record for hitting percentage attacking at a .540 clip for the year. With another dominating performance in the Big Ten with a perfect 20-0 record, Hodge was named the Big Ten Player of the Year for the second time, freshman phenom Darcy Dorton was named the Freshman of the Year and Rose was honored as the league's Coach of the Year.

Rose was inducted into the AVCA Hall of Fame, held in conjunction with the 2007 NCAA National Championship in Sacramento.

Aside from those who believed PSU's luck had run out, the Nittany Lions were unfazed and began a quest for a fourth straight NCAA National Championship in 2010. Things got off to a rough start as the record-breaking winning streak came to an end at 109 consecutive matches. Stanford, the last team to have defeated the Nittany Lions back in 2007, upended Penn State on Sept. 11. The Nittany Lions remained solid, and closed out the preseason without another loss, and opened Big Ten play 3-3. With a shot at the league title on the line, the Lions won their next 16 matches. After losing their final conference match of the season, the Nittany Lions took home their eighth straight and 14th overall Big Ten title. The Nittany Lions proved unstoppable through NCAA Tournament action, defeating Niagara, Virginia Tech, Oklahoma and Duke at home. In a rematch of the 2009 NCAA Championship, Penn State stormed past the Longhorns on their way to a convincing 3-0 win against California for the NCAA crown. Brown earned conference player of the year accolades, was a Honda Award winner and joined Wilson as an AVCA First Team All-American. Freshman Deja McClendon picked up Second Team laurels, was named the AVCA Division I Freshman of the Year and the Most Outstanding Player at the NCAA Championship, the first freshman since Kerri Walsh to earn the honor.

In 2003, Rose celebrated 25 years of coaching at Penn State. He was honored with a bench outside of the post office sponsored by the Penn State Booster Club and surprised with a gathering of more than 40 former players and members of the program, who offered their thoughts and insights on Rose and his career.

"It was my sophomore year when he said 'When you leave this gym, when you finish your career, every day you leave here, you should feel like you gave 110 percent," said former player Christy Cochran (1995-98). "And that's exactly it. If you put your career in his hands, you'll be great."

Rose's influence in the lives of his former players is evident. "I truly miss him," said four-time All-American Bonnie Bremner (1996-99). "I don't even miss playing, I just miss seeing him every day."

However, even with all of his success on the court, Rose does not reflect on past successes. "Fans can get spoiled very quickly in athletics and that's a problem," Rose said. "It's never easy to be successful in anything and when people get accustomed to specific results, it sometimes loses its effect on the players and they forget what it really takes to succeed and how important the journey really should be to their development. The challenge is in getting players who want to become good and are willing to work instead of attending a school because the team is good."

In 2014, Penn State's renowned Berkey Creamery unveiled a new "hall of fame" ice cream flavor, Russ "digs" Roseberry in honor of the legendary coach.

Instead, Rose addresses each new team and season on its own terms and his confidence lies in the ability and work ethic of his current players and coaching staff.

"I'm not much of a believer in predicting a team's level of success," Rose said. "I can only state that we're going to do our best. If we're good enough to win matches then we're going to win matches, but if we lose it's never going to be because we didn't prepare, respect our opponent or work hard and it's not going to be because we rested on our program's previous laurels."

In 1999, following two consecutive campaigns where the Lions reached the title match of the NCAA Tournament only to fall in defeat, the team returned to the NCAA Tourney finale and captured the first National Championship in the program's history with a 3-0 sweep over top-ranked Stanford. Rose also guided the 1999 team to its second-consecutive 20-0 record in Big Ten play (and fourth straight conference title), becoming the first team in conference history to pull off the feat. In addition, the 1999 Nittany Lions extended their NCAA record home-match winning streak to 80 straight (extended to 87 in 2000), eclipsing the previous standard of 58 set by Florida from 1990-94. The Lions streak was finally put to a halt at 87 matches with a loss versus Minnesota on Sept. 29, 2000. Penn State had last dropped a match at Rec Hall on Nov. 24, 1994, when they lost a five-set match to Illinois in a span of over five seasons.

After posting a runner-up finish in 1997, the Lions made it back to the NCAA Championship match in 1998. The team cruised through the regular season with a 30-0 mark, with 28 of those coming in three sets. Penn State also became only the second school to close out the Big Ten schedule with a perfect 20-0 mark.

After winning its fifth Big Ten title, Penn State hosted the NCAA First and Second Rounds and the Central Regional. They swept past Bucknell, Clemson, Louisville and Brigham Young to earn a spot in the school's fourth national semifinal. Once they reached Madison, Wis., the season ended much like 1997. Penn State defeated Nebraska 3-1 to advance to the national championship match. Once again, the Lions had to rally from a 0-2 deficit to force a fifth game only to come up short against Long Beach State for the NCAA title, the only Final with two undefeated teams.

However, perhaps nowhere has Rose's infusion of confidence been more evident than in the two other years when he led an inexperienced team with one starting senior and a rookie setter deep into the postseason.

In 1996, the Lions started out 15-0, before finishing the regular season with a 29-2 mark and a share of the Big Ten title, Rose's third in six seasons in the conference. The squad that took the court in the NCAA tournament was comprised of one senior, one junior, one sophomore and three freshmen. That talented group came two points from knocking off Nebraska at home, in a match to go to the national semifinal. Penn State finished the campaign with a 31-3 record and a final ranking of No. 5. Half of those starters, Bonnie Bremner, Angie Kammer and Terri Zemaitis, earned All-America honors, while Bremner became Penn State's first Big Ten Freshman of the Year for her play at setter.

The 1995 squad posted a 27-8 record and a No. 8 final national ranking. Rose's ability to convey a belief in his players and to instill an uncompromising work ethic led to the Nittany Lions' sixth straight appearance in the NCAA Regionals and a third-place finish in the Big Ten. Along the way he guided Penn State's third Big Ten Player of the Year in just five seasons in the conference as sophomore Zemaitis captured the award.

"I want the players to have a good experience – I want them to enjoy the many opportunities available at Penn State, but clearly I want them to know that they've come to a competitive, disciplined program and we're going to work hard," Rose said. "And without question have some fun along the way.

"I have been coaching at Penn State for a long time, but I don't want to take the major responsibility for the program's success because I know one thing for sure, and that is you can't get where we are today without the total support of the administration. You need to have good leadership and financial support to compete with the nation's elite," Rose said.

"We're not fanatics, and I want the players to be happy. It goes without saying that it is easier to be happy when you're winning than when you're struggling."

"So, the staff and I will have to provide them with the necessary direction and opportunities to excel and hope they remain healthy enough to see if we can make a run at winning as many matches as possible."

That is something that has never been a problem for the coach. In his 35 seasons at Penn State, Rose's record is 1,125-177, an .864 winning percentage that places him first nationally among active coaches. His squads have secured 30 or more wins in a season 25 times and 36 or more victories seven times.

In 1994, Rose coached the Nittany Lions to a second straight NCAA national semifinal appearance and picked up his 500th career win early in the season. Placing second in the Big Ten with a 17-3 conference mark, the Nittany Lions posted a 31-4 ledger on the year and ended the regular-season ranked No. 5, at the time their highest regular-season finish ever. Season highlights included beating national runner-up and perennial powerhouse UCLA at the Volleyball Monthly Invitational and stunning No. 1-ranked and undefeated Nebraska in Lincoln in front of a full house at the NCAA Mideast Regional final to advance to their second straight national semifinal.

Rose's athletes have earned 73 First Team All-Big Ten honors in 23 years and have excelled off the court as well, earning 159 Academic All-Big Ten accolades.

Rose added to an already crowded trophy case by picking up the NCAA Mideast Region Coach of the Year honor for the fourth time.

Still, Rose has had more to do with Penn State's success on the court than he's willing to admit.

"I think that it's a reflection of my years of service and the caliber and commitment of players and staff we've attracted in the past," Rose said. "When you retire from coaching, people will look and see the success you had, but I'd like to be evaluated on the success of my players, their feel for their experience at Penn State and the growth that the program has had from the time I arrived here. We had three in-state scholarships and hand-me-down basketball jerseys for uniforms when I arrived at Penn State. I think the growth and support of the program is more of a reflection of what I was hoping to accomplish when I arrived at Penn State."

Yet, the on-the-court accomplishments do speak volumes. In 1993, another dream season, the Nittany Lions surged into their third year of Big Ten play and won their second consecutive conference title. At the NCAA Tournament, the team strung together four victories and earned the right to play for the National Championship against Long Beach State. Rose puts the success in proper perspective.

"There are a large number of excellent coaches at great schools that have yet to break into the national semifinals. There are a small number of teams that have made it there, and fewer yet that have reached the final match. I won't look at it (reaching the final match) other than it was a great ride that the players took us on and it reinforced that there's validity to how I've run the program here at Penn State.

"The players need to understand what it takes to be successful and they need to have fun. We showed that winning can be fun and that it isn't necessary to change in a stressful environment. Every team starts with the same dream but few programs can really talk about competing for a chance to win a National Championship."

In 2013, Rose earned one of Penn State's most prestigious honors, as he was selected as an Honorary Penn State Alumni. He was presented with an engraved bench outside Rec Hall.

Rose's formula for success was recognized by the media and his coaching peers when he garnered the triple-crown of coaching accolades in 1993 as he did in 1990. Volleyball Monthly named Rose the National Coach of the Year and he also was picked as the NCAA Mideast Region and the Big Ten Conference Coach of the Year.

It was the second time Rose was honored nationally (1990), and the second straight year the Big Ten voted for the Nittany Lion leader. In addition, he was awarded Northeast Region Coach of the Year four times, the Atlantic 10 Conference Coach of the Year six times and was District II's top coach in 1996.

"Coach is a great guy," confided three time All-American Salima (Davidson) Rockwell, who has returned to Penn State as an associate head coach. "He's very straight-forward and to the point, which is what I like. The thing about him is that you can talk to him and he can help you with any problems you might have. Then, on the court, he's all business. I like that combination." So does former Nittany Lion outside hitter and former volunteer assistant coach Jen Reimers. "You learn how to be a better person and a better player," she said about Rose's teaching ability. "You learn how to work with everybody else."

"I like the fact that he comes out and tells you exactly how it is," said Penn State All-American Laura Cook (1991-94). "He bases a lot of our experience on the court to life and life after volleyball."

"I really enjoyed the experience I had while playing for Coach Rose," said All-American Katie Schumacher (1998-01). "I learned a lot, both on and off the court. He is a great teacher and is well-respected around the nation."

Many athletes have thrived under Rose's tutelage as witnessed by the 36 different All-Americans (earning 81 selections in all) and 34 first team All-Big Ten players (earning 73 selections in all) he has coached. In 2012, freshman Megan Courtney was named Big Ten Freshman of the Year, which marked the fourth consecutive selection for Penn State, beginning with Deja McClendon in 2010. Additionally, Ariel Scott earned both Big Ten Player of the Year and first team AVCA All-American honors in 2012. In 1999, Lauren Cacciamani was named Big Ten Player of the Year, the Big Ten Female Athlete of the Year and the Honda Award winner. Bonnie Bremner and Katie Schumacher joined Cacciamani as All-Big Ten selections in 1999. Bremner won back-to-back Big Ten Player of the Year honors in 1997

Coach Rose was honored during the 2010 season for guiding the Nittany Lions to a record-breaking 109 consecutive victories between Sept. 21, 2007 - Sept. 10, 2010. It is the longest streak in Division I women's sports history.

and 1998. Amanda Rome and Carrie Schonveld were recognized with honorable mention All-Big Ten status, while Mishka Levy was named to the conference's All-Freshman squad. Penn State also placed six players on the Academic All-Big Ten Team in 1999, as Bremner, Cacciamani, Kalna Miller, Schonveld, Rome and Dawn Ippolito were honored.

In 2000, Schumacher repeated as an All-Big Ten performer, while Levy earned first-team status for the initial time in her career. Amanda Rome was recognized with honorable mention all-conference status after helping lead Penn State to a 30-6 record and its 11th consecutive NCAA regional appearance in 2000. In addition, Rome, Ippolito, Shannon Bortner, Robyn Guokas, Erin Iceman and Hilary Sexton were named Academic All-Big Ten.

With a 22-8 season in 2001, Penn State advanced to the NCAA Tournament and garnered 20 wins in a season for the 26th straight year. Schumacher earned first team All-Big Ten honors while Levy picked up honorable mention accolades. Seven Lions earned Academic All-Big Ten recognition during the 2001 campaign. Rome, Iceman, Guokas, Bortner, Sexton, Tabitha Eshleman and Emily Gerega were all recognized for their scholastic and athletic achievements.

In 2002, Rose led a young squad with a freshman setter to a second place finish in the conference and the school's 22nd consecutive NCAA Tournament. Freshman Sam Tortorello earned Penn State's second ever Big Ten Freshman of the Year accolade and junior Cara Smith picked up second team All-America honors after leading the nation in hitting percentage for most of the season. The Nittany Lions also excelled in the classroom, with a conference-high nine athletes garnering Academic All-Big Ten honors.

The squad picked up its seventh Big Ten title in 2003 with a team that was picked to finish second in the conference preseason poll. Seniors Cara Smith and Erin Iceman and sophomore Sam Tortorello were named first team All-Big Ten on a squad that finished 17-3 in league play to earn its 23rd consecutive NCAA berth. Freshman Cassy Salyer earned Big Ten Freshman of the Year honors and Rose was honored with his sixth Big Ten Coach of the Year accolade. Penn State advanced to the NCAA Regional Final match at Florida, falling to the Gators in three sets.

Smith, Tortorello and Iceman picked up AVCA All-America honors with Smith earning first team accolades, Tortorello being named to the second team and Iceman picking up honorable mention honors.

Again picked to finish second in the Big Ten in 2004, Rose's squad ended the non-conference portion of their schedule with an unblemished 9-0 record that included a come-from-behind five-game victory at eventual-national champion Stanford. Top-ranked Minnesota handed the Nittany Lions their first loss of the season in five games at Rec Hall and just five matches later, No. 7 Ohio State also defeated Penn State at home in five games.

With a renewed sense of pride following the two losses at home, the Nittany Lions caught fire and won their next 11 matches, including four-game wins over the Gophers and Buckeyes. A three-game win at Michigan on Nov. 27 gave Rose and the Nittany Lions their eighth Big Ten title in 14 years and advanced them to their 24th consecutive NCAA Tournament, where they fell to UCLA at the NCAA Regional Semifinal in Seattle, Wash.

Sam Tortorello and Syndie Nadeau earned AVCA All-America honors as Tortorello was named to the first team and Nadeau picked up second team accolades. Libero Kaleena Walters (Davidson) joined Tortorello and Nadeau on the All-Big Ten squad as Kate Price was named the Big Ten Freshman of the Year. Tortorello was also a finalist for the Honda Award, given to the top female collegiate athlete in the country in each sport. Penn State produced four Academic All-Big Ten honorees that year.

The streak continued as the Nittany Lions claimed their third consecutive Big Ten title with an unblemished 20-0 league record in 2005, only the sixth time since 1985 that the champion had been perfect. In addition to dropping only three individual games during the conference season, Penn State swept all four major honors. Rose earned his seventh Big Ten Coach of the Year award as Tortorello was named the Player of the Year, Walters earned Defensive Player of the Year honors and Nicole Fawcett was tabbed as the Freshman of the Year.

On the national scale, Fawcett earned AVCA National Freshman of the Year and AVCA Second Team All-America accolades as Tortorello was named an AVCA First Team All-American, Walbridge picked up Second Team honors and Walters and Harmotto both earned honorable mention recognition. Tortorello was also a finalist for the Honda Award for the second time.

Penn State made league history with the 2006 season, capturing its fourth consecutive outright title, the first time in Big Ten annals one team had done so. The Nittany Lions finished with an 18-2 league record and an overall record of 32-3, falling to defending national champion Washington in Seattle, in the NCAA Regional Finals. Megan Hodge made some history of her own, becoming the first freshman in conference history to be named Big Joining her in earning conference and national recognition were Nicole Fawcett and Christa Harmotto, who both earned First Team All-Big Ten honors, as Fawcett was named an AVCA First Team All-American and Harmotto picked up Second Team honors. The Lions also produced a league-best 10 Academic All-Big Ten honorees.

Prior to entering the tough Big Ten Conference in 1991, Penn State experienced unprecedented success in the Atlantic 10 Conference, winning eight straight championships. In seven seasons of round-robin play, the Nittany Lions never lost a conference match, reeling off 49 consecutive wins. The 1990 season was Penn State's last in the Atlantic 10 before heading to the Big Ten.

Unbeaten in 42 regular-season matches, the Nittany Lions swept Purdue and Big Ten champion Wisconsin in the first two rounds of the NCAA Tournament. Of the team's 44 wins, 40 were sweeps, a school and national record. Penn State, 12-0 against NCAA Tournament teams, lost to Nebraska in four games in the Mideast Region championship match in Lincoln.

Penn State finished sixth in the final 1990 Tachikara Coaches Poll, the program's highest final ranking ever at the time and the AVCA and Volleyball Monthly named three Nittany Lions Jo Ann Elwell, Michelle Jaworski and Noelle Zientara – All-Americans. As an 11-time nominee for National Coach of the Year, Rose garnered the Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year award in 1984, '85, '87, '88, '89 and '90.

Throughout his career, Rose has been called upon to share his expertise with the coaches and players who represent the United States in international competition. Rose served as head coach of the U.S. men's team, which won the bronze medal at the 1985 Maccabiah Games, and the U.S. women's silver medal team in the 1981 Maccabiah Games. He won bronze medals as an assistant coach of the women's team in the 1982 National Sports Festival and as the East women's head coach at the 1983 Festival. In 1989, he was an assistant coach with the United States men's national team for an exhibition series with Canada and the Soviet Union. His work on the international scene was to have continued in July of that year, but personal commitments and time constraints prevented him from accepting the position as head coach of the U.S. women's team to the Maccabiah Games.

In 1990, Rose worked with members of the men's national and developmental teams during training camp in San Diego. In 1993, he assisted in the U.S. men's matches with Canada and the women's team against China. He also assisted the U.S. men as they prepared for the 2000 Olympics in Sydney. In 2014, he went with the U.S. men's team to the World League matches against Bulgaria.

In the summer of 2002, Rose assisted the U.S. men's team on a 13-day tour of Italy where they competed against the world's top teams, including Brazil, Italy, Yugoslavia, Russia and Holland.

An instructor in the USVBA coaches certification program, Rose has previously served as a national referee and evaluator and state director for volleyball for the Special Olympics.

In 2005, USA Volleyball named Rose one of their All-Time Great Coaches, making him the first Big Ten coach to ever receive the honor.

He also served as team manager for the U.S. men's team at the Four Nations Tournament in Leipzig, Germany, in May of 2008 and was an honorary chair for the 2010 State games. Rose was also inducted into the National Jewish Sports Hall of Fame in 2010.

In June 2011, Rose served as the team leader to the U.S. Women's National Team at the Montreux Volley Masters in Montreux, Switzerland. He joined three former Nittany Lions, Megan Hodge, Alish Glass and Nicole Fawcett. The squad went 2-1 in pool play and finished fourth place overall.

An active clinician, Rose also coached professional men's volleyball in the Superior League in Puerto Rico in 1976 and has continued to do clinics on the island as well as in the United States and Europe.

The Rose family: Nicholas, Christopher, Lori, Coach Rose, Jonathan and Michael

Rose was also member of the NCAA Division I Volleyball Committee for six years and the NCAA representative to the United States Volleyball Association Rules Committee.

Players are not the only ones to benefit from Rose's tutelage. More than 25 individuals within the college coaching fraternity have gained instruction from Rose.

A 1975 graduate of George Williams College, Rose was a member of the school's team that won the 1974 National Association for Intercollegiate Athletics national championship. He was the captain of the 1975 team that finished third in NAIA competition.

After graduation, Rose remained at George Williams for two years as a part-time coach, helping the women's team win two state titles and a sixth-place finish in national competition. He also assisted the men's team that won the national championship in 1977.

In 1978, he completed his master's degree at Nebraska, where he was the defensive coach for the Cornhuskers. While writing his thesis on volleyball statistics, he led the second team to a two-year varsity mark of 52-5.

A 2013 Penn State Honorary Alumni honoree, Rose married Lori Barberich, a former three-time All-American at Penn State, in 1986. They are the parents of four sons, Jonathan, Michael, Christopher and Nicholas.

Former Penn State All-American Salima Rockwell has re-joined the Penn State sideline after serving as both an assistant and associate head coach at Texas for the past five season. Widely regarded as one of the nation's top assistant coaches, Rockwell returns to Penn State as an associate head coach for the Nittany Lions.

"We're very happy with Salima and her family's decision to return to Penn State. We'd like to welcome Salima, her husband Jeff and their two children back to the Penn State community," Rose said.

Rockwell spent the last five seasons as an associate head coach and recruiting coordinator at the University of Texas. While with the Longhorns, Rockwell helped guide Texas to three NCAA national semifinal appearances, including a national championship in 2012. She also helped sign the No. 2 recruiting class in 2012, which included three top-10 recruits. Most recently, Rockwell was the recipient of the 2013 AVCA National Assistant Coach of the Year Award.

"Salima has a great history at Penn State as a three-time All-American and team captain. Between Texas and Penn State, she's been on the bench for five final fours and three national championships," Rose said.

During her collegiate career at Penn State, Rockwell (Davidson) was a three-time All-American under coach Rose from 1991-1994, picking up four All-Big Ten honors, including three first team selections and Big Ten Player of the Year honors in 1993. She also earned back-to-back NCAA Tournament All-Tournament team honors at the 1993 and 1994 national finals. Following her time in the Blue and White, she played with the United States National team from 1995-99, serving as an alternate on the 1996 squad at the Olympic games in Atlanta. She also served as team captain in 1997 and 1998, earning MVP honors at the Montreaux BCV Volley Cup in 1998.

After leaving the court as a player, Rockwell accepted an assistant coaching position at the University of Pittsburgh, where she began to emerge as one of the nation's top recruiters, signing four of the team's five top-ranked recruits in 2002.

"Salima has always been a natural leader who brings a set of intangibles to the program. She relates especially well with young people, and her impact is very large as a mentor and coach. She's given a great deal of her life to volleyball and I think volleyball has really benefited from her involvement," Rose said.

In 2006, Rockwell returned to Rec Hall as the Nittany Lions' director of volleyball operations after spending a season at Oregon State, under the direction of head coach Terry Liskevych. From 2007-08, she served as an assistant coach, helping guide PSU to a pair of back-to-back national championships. Rockwell also mentored multi-year All-American, Alisha Glass, who directed the Nittany Lion offenses to some of the nation's highest hitting percentages, including a .350 clip in 2007 and a .390 efficiency in 2008.

"I look forward to the future with Salima in a leadership role at Penn State and I know that the players are excited to work with a Penn Stater who is truly passionate about the program," Rose said.

Rockwell and her husband Jeff have two sons, Logan and Rylan.

ASSISTANT COACH STEVIE MUSSIE

First year | Washington '08

Stevie Mussie joins the Penn State women's volleyball staff for her first season as an assistant coach after having spent two years at Virginia.

"We were very excited to announce the addition of Stevie Mussie to our staff at Penn State," head coach Russ Rose said. "She came highly recommended from two people whose opinions I value very highly in Dennis Hohenshelt, my former assistant coach and the current head coach at Virginia, and Jim McLaughlin, who was her coach at the University of Washington."

While at Virginia, Mussie was involved in all aspects of recruiting, as well as training passers and pin hitters. During her tenure, she helped transform the program, improving the team from a 9-22 record in 2012 to a fifth-place finish in the ACC in 2013. She also assisted in the development of 2013 ACC Freshman of the Year, Jasmine Burton, as well as two AVCA All-America honorable mentions and two All-ACC selections.

"Stevie embraces the idea of working hard and giving the players the tools to enhance their chances for success," Rose said.

Prior to Virginia, Mussie spent two years as an assistant at North Carolina State, where she helped the Wolfpack move up 150 spots in the NCAA RPI rankings. The increase marked the largest improvement by a first-year staff in history.

Mussie graduated from Washington in 2008, with a bachelor's degree in sociology after transferring from Pacific in 2004. Mussie played in three consecutive NCAA tournaments during her career at Washington. She was part of the 2005 national championship squad as well as the 2006 national finals team. In her senior season with the Huskies, Mussie was named the most outstanding player at the 2006 NCAA Seattle regional and also earned first-team All-PAC 10 honors.

Following graduation, Mussie spent a year as an assistant coach at the University of Colorado, before moving to the junior club level, where she was the regional director at Team Complete Athlete, a high-profile club volleyball program based in Newport Beach, Calif. from 2009-10.

QUOTING COACH ROSE

"Megan Courtney came in as one of the best all around players that we've had, and after a couple of years I still feel the same way about her. She's a terrific all-around player who can play both the right or the left side position. She's a good ball handler and an exceptional blocker with good vision. I'm not sure where she'll end up this year, but I'm sure she'll be in the mix in making a big contribution to the team."

SINCE JOINING THE BIG TEN CONFERENCE IN 1991, PSU HAS ACCUMULATED A 407-53 (.885) RECORD IN LEAGUE MATCHES, THE BEST MARK OF ANY BIG TEN TEAM IN A 23-YEAR SPAN.

• The Big Ten conference was once again ranked among the best in the nation with a record-tying eight teams selected to the 2014 NCAA tournament bracket. The 2013 season marked the 23rd time in history that the Big Ten had five or more teams selected to the tournament and the fourth time the conference saw eight teams in the event (1999, 2002, 2011, 2013). The 2013 national championship featuring Penn State and Wisconsin also marked the first time in both NCAA and conference history that a national title match included two teams from the Big Ten. Overall, the league holds an NCAA Championship record of 306-160 (.657) dating back to 1983 after tallying 23-7 record in 2013.

• Including the 2013 season, Big Ten teams have combined to win 10 or more NCAA matches in each of the last 11 years, amounting to a 166-70 (.703) record during that span. The Big Ten has gone .500 or better in NCAA play every postseason since 1991, spanning the last 23 years. Big Ten teams have posted winning percentages of .600 or better in each of the last 11 NCAA events and winning marks of more than .700 in six of the last seven years.

• A conference record-tying eight teams competed in the 2013 NCAA championship, with five earning top-16 seeds. The Nittany Lions entered the tournament as the No. 2 overall seed, while No. 8 Nebraska, No. 10 Minnesota, No. 12 Wisconsin and No. 13 Illinois each earned top-16 seeds. Michigan, Michigan State and Purdue also received bids to the tournament. Big Ten teams compiled a 23-7 record in the tournament, breaking the all-time win total for the conference of 19 set in 2010 and 2012. Additionally, seven Big Ten squads advanced to the round of 16, marking the most by any conference in tournament history.

• Four different Big Ten teams matched up during the 2013 NCAA tournament, marking the 17th occasion that two league teams have faced each other during the event. Illinois and Purdue met up in the semifinals of the Champaign regional, with the Boilermakers advancing to the regional finals against Wisconsin. On the other side of the bracket, Penn State and Michigan State met in the Lexington regional semifinals. Of the nine teams that have been presented with the matchup over the years, Penn State holds the best record in intra-conference NCAA play at 8-1, followed by Illinois (3-2) and Wisconsin (3-2) and Minnesota (2-2), Ohio State (2-5), Michigan (1-1), Purdue (1-3), Iowa (0-1) and Michigan State (0-3).

• Following the conclusion of the fall season, the Big Ten recognized a total of 869 fall sports student-athletes who had been named to the Academic All-Conference team, which included 75 volleyball student-athletes. To be eligible for Academic All-Big Ten selection, student-athletes must be letterwinners who are in at least their second academic year at their institution and carry a cumulative grade-point average of 3.0 or higher. At least 20 student-athletes maintained unblemished cumulative GPAs, including Penn State's Maggie Harding as well as Maggie Halloran of Michigan State and Faye Adelaja of Purdue.

• Since the NCAA started sponsoring volleyball in 1981, only two teams in the country have appeared in all 33 tournaments, with Penn State and Stanford being the only two in the elite group. The Nittany Lions have compiled an overall record of 84-27 (.757) in the NCAA Tournament, including 16 trips to the NCAA Regional Final, 11 trips to the NCAA Semifinals (1993, 1994, 1997, 1998, 1999, 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010, 2012, 2013) and six national championships (1999, 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010, 2013). Penn State's sixth national championship also ties Stanford for the most national titles by a single program in history.

• Penn State senior Katie Slay and Michigan State senior Kristen Kelsay earned Capital One Academic All-America honors, with Slay being named Capital One Academic All-America of the Year, presented by CoSIDA. Slay, a communications sciences and disorders major was a first-team selection, while Kelsay, a psychology major, was named to the third team. The pair of Academic All-Americans marks the third consecutive year that two conference standouts have earned the accolade.

Aug. 31, 2013

The No. 2 Penn State women's volleyball team officially opened 2013 with a 3-0 (25-16, 25-15, 25-17) victory against Syracuse in the Penn State Invitational. With the win, the Lions improve to 29-6 in season-openers under the guidance of head coach Russ Rose.

Following an early 4-1 Penn State lead, the Orange fought within two, 12-10, following a kill from junior Nicolette Serratore and an attacking error on senior Deja McClendon. The Lions regained momentum though, and increased its advantage to as many as nine points, 23-14, before a kill from junior Nia Grant sent McClendon to the service line for match point. Grant followed with a kill to secure the opening set, 25-16.

Tied at 6-all in set two, the Lions went on a 7-3 run and didn't relinquish control for the remainder of the set, finishing the frame with a kill from Prieto Cerame and an ace from Hancock to go up 2-0.

Syracuse made one final attempt to hold off PSU, 24-17, in set three following a kill by Monika Salkute, but an Orange service error ended the attack, giving the Lions a 25-17 win in set three and the victory.

TEXAS 3, PSU 2

Austin, Texas (Gregory Gym)
Sept. 7, 2013

No. 1 Penn State women's volleyball came up just short in a close 3-2 loss to No. 6 Texas in the opening match of the Nike Big Four Classic.

Leading 11-9 in set one, PSU held on to a one-point advantage, until a Penn State attacking error and a kill from Texas put UT in front, 18-16. The set remained tight up until McClendon and Hancock fired back-to-back kills to secure a 27-25 victory in the first game.

After dropping set two, PSU came out of the locker room strong and opened set three on a 9-4 run. Later in the frame, Texas closed the gap to four, 14-10, helped out by two PSU serving aces, but the Lions closed out the set on an 11-3 streak to go up 2-1 in the match.

Heading into the fifth and final set after a loss in set four, both teams battled point-for-point. A Nittany Lion service ace and kill from Molly McCage put Texas up by three, 11-8, but PSU fought back within one, 11-10. From there, the Lions couldn't continue the momentum, as Texas capitalized on two PSU attacking errors, following with two kills to take the set, 15-10, and the match.

PSU 3, FLORIDA 0

Austin, Texas (Gregory Gym)
Sept. 8, 2013

No. 1 Penn State topped No. 8 Florida in straight sets in the final match of the Nike Big Four Classic Sunday afternoon. With the victory, the Nittany Lions improve to 8-3 all-time against the Gators and 2-0 in the event.

Late in the opening set, PSU used a 9-4 streak to construct a 19-12 advantage, forcing the Gators to call two timeouts. Following the break, UF used three consecutive kills and a service ace to attempt a comeback, 23-18, but was unable to mount a run as a Gator service error put Dominque Gonzalez at the line for set-point, 24-18. Gonzalez connected on an ace to seal the set, 25-18.

Penn State used an 11-1 stretch for a double-digit advantage, 19-9, in set two. The Gators couldn't find any momentum to regain control though, as a service error from Ziva Recek gave the Lions set two.

Knotted at 9-all in set three both teams continued to trade the lead throughout the remainder of the set before UF smacked a kill to put the Gators up by one, 20-19. Penn State responded with a 5-0 run to close out the third set, as Grant, Courtney and Hancock all pounded kills to secure a 25-20 victory.

PSU 3, MINNESOTA 2

University Park, Pa. (Rec Hall)
Oct. 9, 2013

Behind career high contributions from a trio of senior standouts, the No. 4 Penn State team rallied to a 3-2 win against No. 11 Minnesota.

Penn State opened the first set on a roll, using an 8-2 run to build an early advantage. Minnesota trimmed the lead back to two, 12-10, but the Nittany Lions responded with a 7-2 run to go up by seven, 19-12, before taking the set, 25-19.

Unable to settle into an offensive rhythm in the second, Minnesota grabbed the closely contested set, 25-23, to tie the match. Trailing for most of the third, the Lions cracked open an 18-all tie for a two-point lead, 20-18. Erasing the deficit, the Gophers responded with three kills to knot up the frame, 21-21, but PSU rallied with the next four points to seal set three, 25-21.

Penn State climbed back from a seven-point deficit in the third to come within four, 18-14. After the break, Minnesota moved back up by four, 20-16, before PSU sliced the lead in half, 22-20, but the Lions couldn't get back on top. PSU jumped out to a 6-1 start in the fifth frame and didn't look back. Despite the Gophers jumping within one, 11-10, PSU stayed strong, claiming a 15-11 win for the victory.

University Park, Pa. (Rec Hall)
Nov. 9, 2013

Eight members of the No. 2 Penn State women's volleyball team recorded at least one kill in a straight-set victory against Indiana. The Nittany Lion victory extends the current PSU winning streak to 13 consecutive matches.

Leading by eight 19-11, following a 4-1 spurt in the first set, the Hoosiers called a timeout to regroup. PSU did not allow IU to get any closer than seven after the break, as McClendon rounded out a set-point attempt, 24-16, with a solo block to secure a 25-16 win.

The Nittany Lions stormed out to an 11-2 advantage in set two. IU attempted to slow the momentum with a kill, but PSU powered on, taking a double-digit lead, 13-3. Without letting the advantage dip below nine for the remainder of the frame, Prieto Cerame closed out the set with back-to-back kills and a solo block for a 25-11 victory.

Up by one in the third set, 5-4, Penn State used a 4-0 strike to build a five-point cushion, 9-4. Tallying a kill, the Hoosiers looked to settle into an offensive rhythm, but PSU used a 6-1 stretch to extend its lead to nine, 15-6. IU tried to slow the momentum once more, but PSU close out the match on a 10-4 run to seal a 25-11 win in the third set.

PSU 3, WASHINGTON 0

Seattle, Wash. (KeyArena)
Dec. 19, 2013

No. 2 Penn State powered past No. 3 Washington in straight sets in KeyArena, earning a spot in the NCAA national finals.

Trailing by three, 7-4, early in the first frame, Ariel Scott and Deja McClendon pounded a pair of kills in between a Huskie kill to make it 6-8. Washington continued to pull away, using two consecutive kills to move ahead by as many as four, 10-6. From there the Lions did not look back, cruising to a 24-14 win in the opening set.

In similar fashion, the Nittany Lions fought off some early pressure from the Huskies, 5-4, with a 3-0 spurt that proved to be enough momentum to carry Penn State to a 25-13 win in set two.

Maintaining a steady lead throughout the third frame, Washington narrowed the gap to six, 16-10, midway through the set. Penn State remained in control, using a 7-2 streak to go up 23-12. Battling back, the Huskies tallied the next three points to close the gap to eight, 23-15. Hancock cut off the comeback attempt with a kill to make it match-point, 24-15. UW held off just one attempt before Katie Slay responded with a kill to complete the sweep, advancing Penn State to the NCAA national finals.

PSU 3, WISCONSIN 1

Seattle, Wash. (KeyArena)
Dec. 21, 2013

No. 2 Penn State women's volleyball team captured its sixth NCAA women's volleyball national championship in program history, rallying past No. 12 Wisconsin in four sets. Micha Hancock was named tournament MVP, while Ariel Scott and Deja McClendon joined her on the all-tournament team.

With the Badgers close behind for much of the opening set, the Nittany Lions used a 4-0 streak to pull away from a one-point lead, 16-15, moving ahead by five, 20-15. Wisconsin fought within four, 22-18, but PSU battled to set-point, 24-18. The Badgers held off one attempt, but the Lions put down a kill to secure set one, 25-19.

PSU and Wisconsin battled back and forth throughout the second frame until the Lions used a late 3-1 run to go up 22-21. The Badgers rallied to make it 24-23, but a 3-0 stretch gave PSU a 26-24 win.

Despite a 25-20 setback in set three, Penn State managed to construct a slim lead, 7-6, in the fourth set. Setting the tone, the two clubs continued to trade points until UW broke open an 18-all tie with a 4-1 streak to move ahead by three, 22-19. Following a 4-1 run, PSU knotted the frame 23-all before finishing off the frame with an ace and a kill to secure the victory.

HONOLULU, H.A. Dec. 18, 1999 -- In just one hour and 20 minutes, the top-ranked Penn State women's volleyball team erased memories of five game losses in the previous two title matches by sweeping Stanford for the first NCAA volleyball national championship in school history. The Nittany Lions defeated the Cardinal 15-2, 15-10, 15-7 in front of a sold-out crowd of 10,252 fans at the Stan Sheriff Center at the University of Hawaii.

"I think we set the stage for the win in the first game when we had 10 blocks," said head coach Russ Rose. "We had a great game plan and the players played with passion and enthusiasm right out of the chute. I believe the players are the ones that placed themselves in a position to get into this situation and I thought they handled all the distractions that normally come in a match like this as well as they possible could."

It was a perfect ending for the three seniors who had started in the previous two title matches. Each of the trio played one of their best matches of the year, including senior Lauren Cacciamani who was named the Most Outstanding Player after pounding out a match-high 20 kills with eight blocks. Also the 1999 National Co-Player of the Year, she and the rest of the team weren't about to fall behind by two games again this year.

"We did get an opportunity to watch a lot of film and we knew that we had to come out and jump on them," Cacciamani said. "We were going to try to go out there and dictate instead of having them show us what was going to go on. We were planning on going out strong and with a lot of fight."

Seniors Bonnie Bremner and Carrie Schonveld were also named to the NCAA Championship All-Tournament team. Bremner dished out 37 assists with four kills of her own. She also hit .333 with six digs and a pair of blocks. Schonveld had nine kills to go with her team-high 10 digs. The outside hitter hit .368 on the night and also aided at the net with three blocks (1 BS, 2 BA).

"We played well and at times we wanted to keep the ball in play and hope that they would make mistakes," Bremner said. "They're a big team that's going to get a lot of kills, but we were also figuring they would make mistakes."

The Penn State blockers created a wall that the Stanford hitters could not avoid. Fueled by Cacciamani's eight blocks, the Lions held the Cardinal to a season-low -.008 hitting percentage as 1999 Co-Player of the Year Kerri Walsh zeroed out (11k-11e-33ta). They also held 1999 Freshman of the Year Logan Tom to negative numbers (7k-10e-31ta, -.097)

Redshirt-freshman Mishka Levy and sophomore Katie Schumacher each added five blocks--both with one solo and four assisted. Each of the six players that rotated to the front row recorded at least one block as Penn State ended the evening with 15 to Stanford's 10.5.

"We blocked incredibly well and with patience," Rose said. "We blocked 10 balls and they had nine hitting errors in addition to that (in the first game), in my opinion they never got into a flow and I think some of their younger players weren't ready for that. We knew what we wanted to do and we recognized that a couple of players were going to be able to get their kills. We had a game plan that we felt comfortable about and believed would be successful."

Schumacher also added nine kills with three each from Levy and sophomore Amanda Rome. The Lions only trailed during one part of the match. Down 3-1 in game two, the Lions rolled off three-consecutive points to resume the lead and never looked back the rest of the way. It was the first time this season the Cardinal had been swept.

The Lions end the season with a 36-1 mark with the only loss coming in the season opener to Florida on Aug. 27. It was a matter off pulling things together to end the season on a high note.

"We didn't peak at the beginning of the season, obviously," Cacciamani said. "We lost our first match so we knew we wouldn't go undefeated. We did a good job playing as a team. We progressed and got better as the season went on.

Nittany Lions exorcise past demons by sweeping Stanford

By Ann Miller
ADVERTISER STAFF WRITER

Penn State won its first NCAA Women's Volleyball Championship last night. Winning over the demons that plagued it the past two years was just a bonus.

The top-ranked Nittany Lions blew second-ranked Stanford away, 15-2, 15-10, 15-7, before 7,578 at Stan Sheriff Center. The sell-out Hawaii crowd (minus 2,700 no-shows) watched one of the most one-sided finals in NCAA history. Its only sign of life came between the second and third games, when Hawaii senior Heather Bown was announced with the All-America teams.

Maybe the crowd was in shock. Penn State's charge to its first championship — and only the third for a team outside of Hawaii or California — wasn't that surprising, but SACRAMENTO, Calif., Dec. 15, 2007 - The No. 1 Penn State women's volleyball team captured the program's second NCAA Championship, winning a dramatic five-game final, 3-2, against No. 4 Stanford in Arco Arena.

The Nittany Lions won the thriller, 30-25, 30-26, 23-20, 19-30, 15-8, posting their 26th consecutive victory since a five-game loss to the Cardinal exactly three months prior. Penn State finished the season with a superlative 34-2 record, bringing the championship trophy back to Happy Valley to join the program's 1999 crown.

"We're awfully excited," stated Russ Rose, the 2007 AVCA National Coach of the Year and Hall of Fame inductee earlier in the week. "We're thrilled for our fans and everyone that cares about Penn State."

"It's an amazing feeling," said junior outside hitter Nicole Fawcett. "This year's team was so determined. After the fourth game we were determined to get our focus back."

After taking a 2-0 lead, Penn State saw the top-seeded Stanford rally to tie the match, 2-2. The Cardinal took a 4-3 lead in the decisive Game 5, but the Nittany Lions scored seven consecutive points to take control at 10-4. Junior middle hitter Christa Harmotto and sophomore setter Alisha Glass each had two kills during the critical run.

Kills by Fawcett and freshman middle hitter Arielle Wilson pushed Penn State's lead to 13-7. A block by Wilson and freshman opposite Blair Brown made it 14-8. The Nittany Lions immediately seized the opportunity on their first match point, as sophomore outside hitter Megan Hodge delivered her 26th kill of the match, setting off jubilation among the Nittany Lions.

Penn State won Game 1, 30-25. Stanford led 15-13, but the Nittany Lions scored five consecutive points to take a 18-15 lead. The game was tied at 22-22, but Penn State took the lead for good on a service error by the Cardinal and a kill by Harmotto. A block by Fawcett made it 29-24 and she delivered the game-winning kill for the 30-25 margin. Penn State hit .263 in the opening game and Stanford hit .159.

The Nittany Lions captured Game 2, 30-26. Penn State took the lead for good on a Fawcett kill to make it 13-12. Another Fawcett kill made it 29-25 and a block by Glass and Harmotto gave the Lions the 30-26 win and a 2-0 lead. Penn State hit .525 in the game, while the Cardinal hit .357.

Stanford won Game 3, 30-23, snapping a streak of 17 consecutive winning games for the Nittany Lions in the 2007 NCAA Tournament. Penn State took its last lead at 7-6 on a block by freshman middle hitter Arielle Wilson, but the Cardinal took the lead for good at 9-8.

The Cardinals won Game 4, 30-19, to force the decisive fifth game.

The national championship match was the fifth in program history for the Nittany Lions, as they also advanced in 1993, 1997, 1998 and 1999, capturing the title in 1999. Penn State defeated Stanford (15-2, 15-10, 15-7) on Dec. 18, 1999 in Honolulu, Hawaii, to give the Lions their first NCAA Championship.

The two teams met earlier in 2007 in New Haven, Conn., with Stanford outlasting Penn State in five games (30-23, 23-30, 27-30, 30-28, 15-9) on Sept. 15. The Nittany Lions had won 25 consecutive matches since the loss entering the title match, including a 20-0 record in winning a fifth consecutive Big Ten Championship.

The NCAA Championship match featured eight 2007 AVCA All-Americans, including first teamers Fawcett, Hodge and Harmotto for Penn State and Bryn Kehoe, Foluke Akinradewo and Cynthia Barboza for Stanford. Penn State's Glass and Stanford's Alix Klineman both earned second team honors.

Stanford was playing less than 120 miles from Arco Arena, while the Nittany Lions traveled more than 2,300 miles to capture the program's second NCAA Championship.

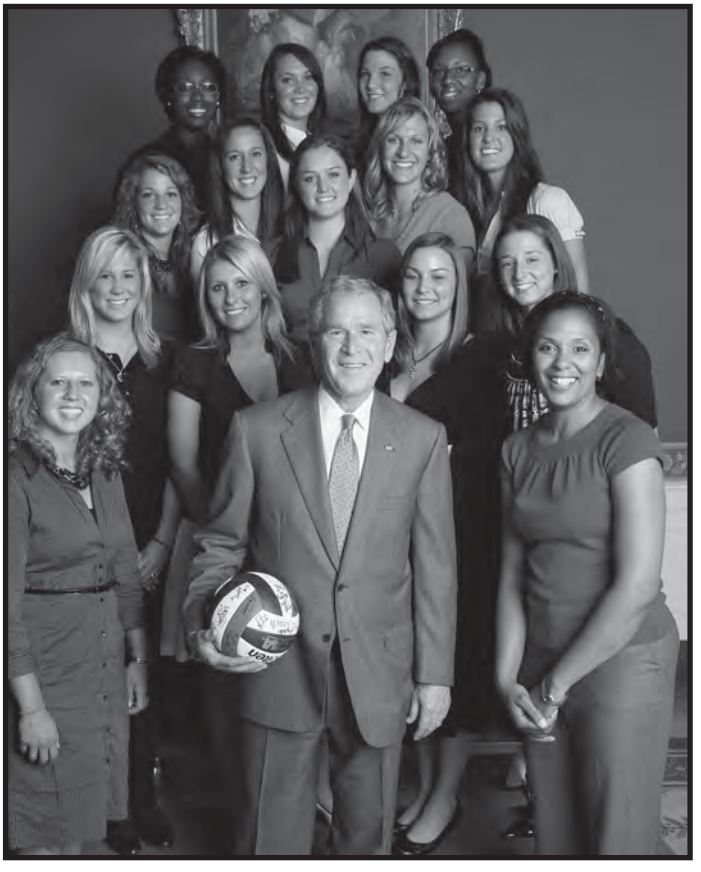
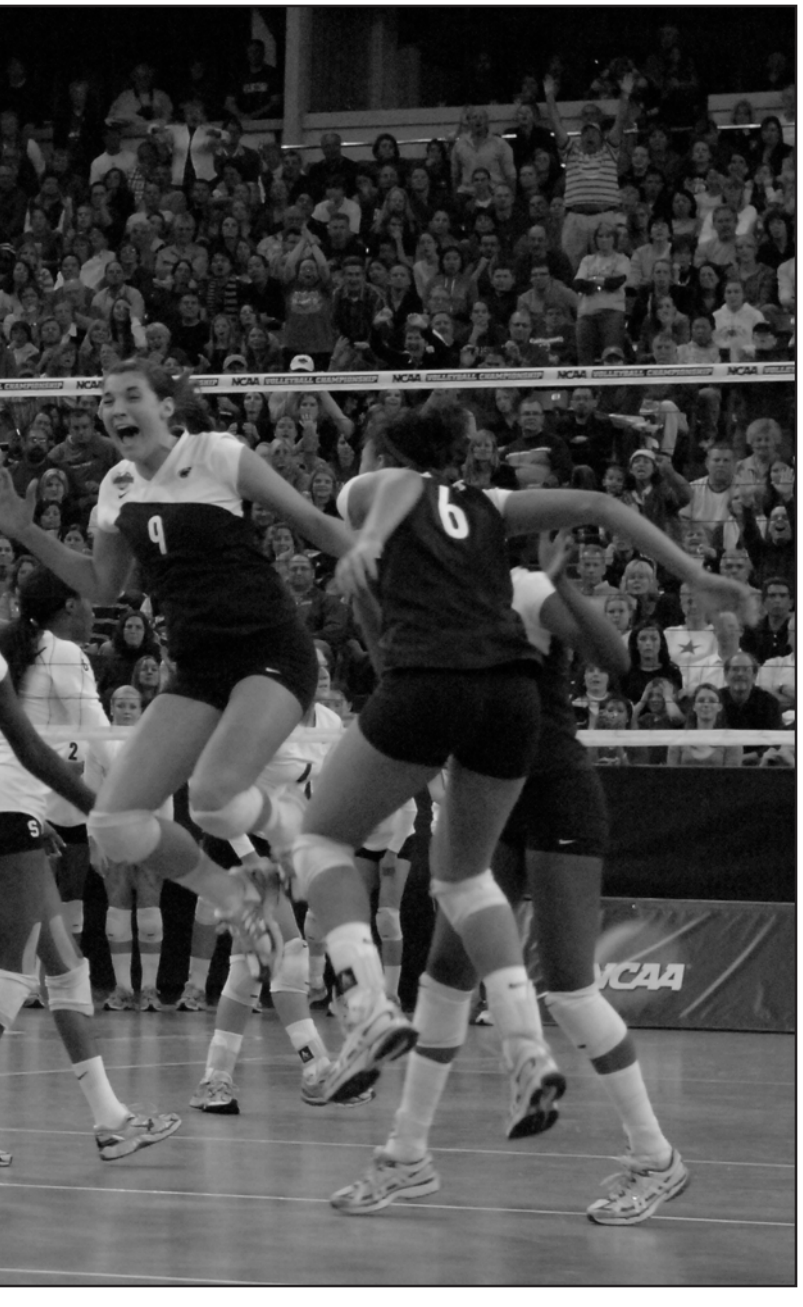
PENN STATE
NCAA VOLLEYBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

A TRIP TO THE WHITE HOUSE

The 2007 Penn State women's volleyball team and the 2008 Penn State men's volleyball team were invited to the White House to meet with President George W. Bush on Tuesday, June 24, 2008. Both squads enjoyed a tour of the East Wing of the White House before individually meeting with the President. He chatted with each group. The team captains then presented the President with a gift - a jointly-signed Penn State No. 1 volleyball jersey and a red, white and blue volleyball - before taking a group photo. The teams were then escorted to the Blue Room of the White House before being formally announced to the South Lawn, where they descended the stairs to a reserved seating area. The captains of each of the 18 National Championship teams in attendance were then escorted to a stage in front of the group and the President joined them, speaking to the crowd and recognizing each team for their accomplishments.





OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 20, 2008 – The top-ranked Penn State women's volleyball team capped a record-setting season for its second consecutive NCAA title Saturday night with a three-game win over No. 2 Stanford (25-20, 26-24, 25-23) at the Qwest Center in Omaha, Neb. The Nittany Lions finish the 2008 campaign with a perfect 38-0 record, only the fourth team ever in Division I women's volleyball history to finish the season with an unblemished slate.

"I don't think it was the prettiest match to determine the national championship, but it was a match that was played very hard by both teams," said Penn State head coach Russ Rose, the 2008 AVCA National Coach of the Year. "I thought we hung in there defensively and gave ourselves opportunities for a chance for Megan to take big swings at the end. I thought it was a group effort in a lot of areas. It certainly wasn't a match that had the same energy from the match a couple of nights ago. That one had the significance to get us here. Tonight's has special significance, especially for the seniors."

Stanford took the 3-0 lead to start the match, but a Christa Harmotto and Bliar Brown block along with two Harmotto kills helped pull Penn State within two at 6-4. The Nittany Lions trailed for much of the game, but forced two Stanford timeouts to steal the momentum. PSU went on to win the game, 25-20, and senior Christa Harmotto led the way with five kills and two blocks .

Penn State jumped out to the early lead in game two and held on to take a 2-0 lead in the match. Penn State had a 12-9 advantage midway through the frame, but a Stanford kill and block again trimmed the Lion lead to one at 12-11. The squads traded points before a Cardinal kill and block put Stanford up 14-13. Penn State kills from Blair Brown and Megan Hodge put the Lions ahead 15-14 heading into the television time out. Penn State maintained the lead for the remainder of the set, but Stanford didn't let the Lions go unchallenged. A Stanford kill and a Lion attack error tied the score 24-24 before kills from Nicole Fawcett and Hodge gave Penn State the game, 26-24.

A monster Harmotto and Brown block gave the Nittany Lions the 3-1 lead in the third game, but Stanford tied the game at 3-3. The Lions controlled the set until Stanford recorded three kills to pull within two at 23-21 forcing a Penn State time out. Out of the break, the Cardinals recorded another kill trimming the lead to one, 23-22, but Hodge responded with a cross-court kill that clipped the line to make it 24-22. Stanford recorded a kill before a Fawcett kill off the block ended the game, 25-23 giving the Nittany Lions earned their third NCAA title.

Penn State becomes just the sixth team in history to win back-to-back NCAA Championships, joining Hawaii (1982-83), Pacific (1985-86), UCLA (1990-91), Stanford (1996-97) and USC (2002-03).The Penn State volleyball programs also become only the third school to have its men's and women's programs capture their respective championships in the same calendar year, as the Penn State men captured their championship in May. Penn State joins UCLA (1984) and Stanford (1997) as the only programs in history to accomplish the feat. Stanford (1996-97) and Penn State (2007-08) are the only two to win both titles in the same academic year.

The match featured nine 2008 AVCA All-Americans, with Penn State's Fawcett, Alisha Glass, Harmotto and Hodge and Stanford's Alex Klineman, Cynthia Barboza and Foluke Akinradewo earning first team honors and Lions Brown and Arielle Wilson picking up second team accolades. The contest also showcased the last two AVCA National Players of the Year in Fawcett (2008) and Akinradewo (2007).

Penn State finished the season with a 114-2 individual game record and pushed its current NCAA-record match winning streak to 64 dating back to a five-game loss to 2008 NCAA runner-up Stanford on Sept. 15, 2007.

2008 NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP BY THE NUMBERS ...

Penn State finished the season undefeated at 38-0 for the second consecutive year. The Nittany Lions became just the fifth team in Division I history to win the national championship with an undefeated season and the first to do it twice.

.966

With the win, seniors Megan Hodge and Alisha Glass graduated with an overall record of 142-5 for a .966 winning percentage. It is the best in NCAA Division I history for classes that have won national titles.

.540

Junior Arielle Wilson finished the season with a .540 hitting percentage, a national collegiate record for a season in the rally-scoring era. The mark surpasses the 30-point scoring format record (2001-07) of .529 set in 2005 and the current 25-point scoring format record of .486 set in 2008 by Penn State's Christa Harmotto.

.381

Penn State hit .381 for the season, the second-best Division I team hitting percentage mark in the rally scoring era. It only trails the mark of .390 set by the 2008 Nittany Lion squad.

The Nittany Lion comeback marked the third time in NCAA tournament history that a team has come from two sets down (and ninth time overall coming from behind) to win the title.

It was the third time in tournament history that two teams have met in the championship match with one loss or fewer. The first was in 1998 when Long Beach State and Penn State met in the final.

2010 marked the ninth time in tournament history that the top two overall seeded teams have met in the championship match.

NO. 102
With the national championship win, Penn State's winning streak increased to 102 consecutive matches, an NCAA Division I record for any women's sport.

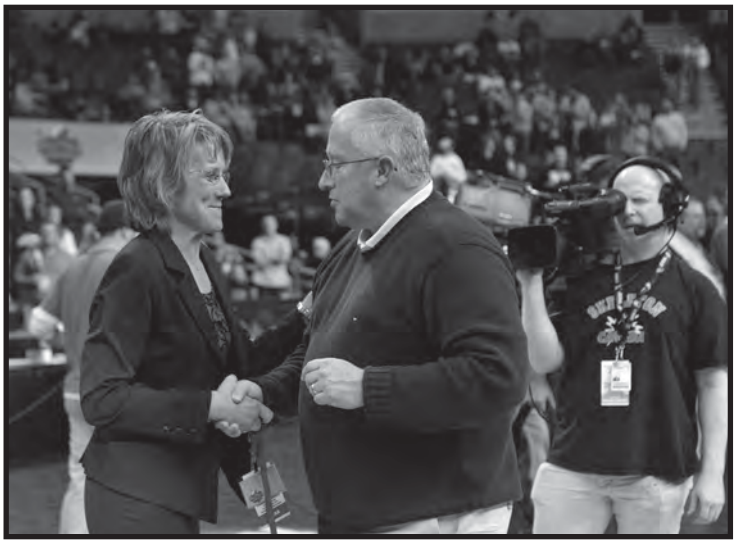
Penn State became the ninth team in 12 years to hold the No.1 ranking in the AVCA poll heading into the tournament and to win the championship.

66
Penn State won its 66th NCAA Tournament match, the fifth best in Division I history

308-38
Penn State finished the decade with a record of 308-38 (.890) for the fourth-highest winning percentage by a school in the 2000's.



TAMPA, Fla., Dec. 19, 2009 - The top-ranked Penn State women's volleyball team made history, becoming the first team to win three consecutive national titles with a 3-2 (22-25, 20-25, 25-23, 25-21, 15-13) come-from-behind victory against No. 2 Texas (29-2). Head coach Russ Rose has now won 1,001 career matches and Penn State's winning streak extended to 102 straight matches.

"It was a very strange match," said head coach Russ Rose. "It's one of those examples where you don't win the statistics war, but we found a way to win at critical times. Certainly Texas had a great season and has a great team. We feel like we played two great teams here in the Final Four that really were great representatives of their conference and the sport of college volleyball."

Senior Megan Hodge led the Nittany Lions with 21 kills, while both junior Blair Brown and freshman Darcy Dorton contributed 13 kills each. The Nittany Lions had five players with double-digit digs led by junior libero Alyssa D'Errico who posted a career-high 22. Brown made 14 saves, Hodge had 13 and junior Cathy Quilico and senior setter Alisha Glass had 12 apiece. Junior Fatima Balza had a team-best nine total blocks and Hodge put up five. Glass dished out 53 helpers in the match and both D'Errico and Quilico had two aces each.

Texas had a slim 4-3 lead to start the match, but back-to-back kills from Wilson had the Lions ahead by one, 5-4. A UT attack error moved PSU ahead by two, 6-4, but two straight kills from Destinee Hooker allowed the Longhorns to tie it at 6-6. A Penn State attack error moved Texas ahead, 7-6, before two kills by Rachael Adams and a Texas stuff gave the Longhorns a 10-7 advantage. The Nittany Lions fought back and took over the lead thanks to two UT errors and two aces by Quilico. The Longhorns tied it up again at 11-11 and moved ahead to a 13-11 lead after a PSU error and a kill by Juliann Faucette.

Penn State trailed for the next few plays until Hodge and Balza teamed up for a block and Hodge put down a monster kill to tie it at 14-14. UT worked up to a 17-15 lead stayed ahead courtesy of two kills and an ace. However, Dorton came alive and slammed two kills to bring Penn State within one, 19-18. Wilson registered a solo stuff to tie the set for the 10th time before tallying a kill to put PSU in front and sending Texas to the bench. A Glass kill and a joint block by Wilson and Dorton soon had the Lions up by three, 22-19, and Texas taking another timeout. The break slowed the Lions' momentum allowing UT to tie the set again at 22-22. Penn State called a timeout, but the Longhorns weren't affected. Hooker closed out the set for Texas with two kills for a 25-22 win.

Despite kills from Wilson and Balza giving Penn State an early 2-1 lead, the Longhorns took control and worked to an 8-4 lead forcing the Nittany Lions to call an early timeout. Penn State managed to come within two, 10-8, but the Longhorns were unfazed and stampeded ahead with a 7-1 run for a 17-9 lead. Two Texas errors and a D'Errico ace put the Lions within six, 18-12, but the Longhorns continued their dominance of the second set and were back up by eight, 21-13, moments later. Penn State went on a 6-2 run to coming within four, 23-19. Balza assisted on three blocks in the Nittany Lion run. Despite a Texas ball handling error, Hooker and Jennifer Doris secured the second set for Texas, 25-20.

The Nittany Lions came out on fire in the third set. Hodge opened the set with two kills and Penn State continued to dominate establishing an 8-4 lead when Texas called a timeout. The Longhorns managed a point after the timeout, but made an attack error to put the ball back in Penn State's hands. Penn State increased its lead to six, 11-5, for its largest lead of the match thus far for the Lions. However, the Longhorns recorded a kill and a block to come within three of PSU, 11-8. Two UT service errors, kills from Dorton and Brown and an ace by D'Errico had PSU back up by five, 16-11. Texas called a timeout and Penn State managed to tally another point before turning the ball over to the Longhorns. A Hooker error and a huge slam by Brown had PSU up by seven, 18-11. The Longhorns came within two courtesy of two PSU hitting errors, but the Nittany Lions used back-to-back kills to put them in set-point position. The Longhorns tallied three additional points, but Hodge put the set away with a kill, 25-23.

Tied at 3-3 early in the fourth set, the Lions went on a 5-0 run to develop a five-point advantage, 8-3. UT answered back with a 9-3 run and took control of the set, 12-11. Penn State took a timeout cutting off the Longhorn run. The score tied four times before Hodge put down two consecutive kills for a 17-15 lead. A Texas timeout allowed the Longhorns to regroup and tie the set once again. Penn State maintained at least a one-point lead until a Wilson kill, a Texas error and Hodge put down after a long rally sent the match to a fifth and final set.

Texas jumped out to a 3-1 lead in set five before a Dorton kill and a Texas attack error allowed the Nittany Lions to tie it up at 3-3. The two squads traded points until UT's Adams posted a kill and teamed up with Faucette for a block for a 7-5 lead against the Lions. Hodge and Wilson notched one kill each to tie the set at 7-7, but Hooker posted one of her own to put UT ahead, 8-7. After a timeout, Balza and Glass registered a joint stuff to make it 8-8. Texas continued to stay one step ahead of the Lions and had an 11-10 lead as the set seemed to be coming to a close. Dorton and Wilson posted back-to-back kills for a 12-11 edge. Dorton tallied another kill before Hooker registered an attack error to make it set-point Penn State. The Longhorns managed one final point before Hodge closed out her collegiate career with the final kill of the match for the triumph.

National Volleyball Champions

KANSAS CITY, MO. Dec. 18, 2010 - The fourth-seeded Penn State women's volleyball team made history one more time winning the 2010 NCAA National Title with a 3-0 (25-20, 27-25, 25-20) sweep of California. The Nittany Lions became the first team in Division I women's volleyball to win four consecutive national championships.

This is the fifth NCAA championship of Coach Russ Rose's career, the most national championships ever for a Division I volleyball head coach. He joins Doug Dannevik of Division III UC San Diego and Teri Clemens of Division III Washington-St. Louis as the only collegiate volleyball coaches to have ever won at least five national championships.

Senior Blair Brown led all players with 18 kills, while freshman Deja McClendon allied 16 and senior Arielle Wilson posted 12. Sophomore setter Kristin Carpenter dished out 46 assists and freshman Ali Longo led all players with three aces. Senior Alyssa D'Errico led the team with 13 digs, while Brown contribute 10. Freshman Katie Slay had a match-high seven total blocks and Brown was second on the team with four.

Penn State hit .276 for the match and held the Bears to .182 hitting. The Nittany Lions totaled 54 kills, four aces, 52 digs and 8.0 total team blocks. California finished the match with 37 kills, three aces, 45 digs and 11.0 team blocks.

The Nittany Lions opened the match taking a 3-1 lead, but the Bears fought back and tied it at 4-4. Back-to-back kills by Scott put Penn State back in the lead, 6-4. Penn State maintained the lead and was leading by five, 12-7, when Cal called its first timeout. The Bears came within one, 12-11, but kills from McClendon, Brown and Wilson and a D'Errico ace moved PSU up by four, 16-12. A 3-0 Cal run had the Bears trailing by one, 16-15, but two Cal errors and a Wilson putdown kept the lead out of Cal's reach. McClendon pounded a kill to give PSU a 21-17 lead and send Cal to the bench for a second timeout. A PSU service error and a kill by Tarah Murrey had the Bears within three, 22-19, but two Brown kills and one from Scott closed out set one for PSU, 25-20.

The second frame was close from the start with neither team able to develop any momentum to take a strong lead. It was until midway through the set that Cal took a 14-10 lead on two kills and a PSU error. A Wilson kill cut off the Cal run and Brown followed it up with one of her own to move Penn State within two, 14-12. Despite a Cal kill, a Wilson kill and a huge block by Slay had Penn State behind by only one, 15-14. Cal's lead grew to three, 17-14, but a net violation, a joint stuff by Brown and Slay and a McClendon kill had the score knotted at 17-17.

After a timeout, another block by Brown and Slay put the Lions in the lead, 18-17. Penn State moved ahead by two, 19-17, but a kill by Cal kept the Bears just behind. McClendon gave PSU some breathing room with a kill, but Cal used another kill and a block to tie it up at 20-20. A Scott kill edged PSU ahead, but Cal was right there with a kill of its own to make it 21-21. The score tied twice more before two straight Bear kills put Cal in the lead, 24-23. Following a timeout by the Nittany Lions, Brown and Wilson joined forces for a block to tie the set at 24-24. However, Cal's Carli Lloyd tallied a kill to put Cal at set-point for a second time. Penn State burned its second time out. Carpenter and Slay teamed up for a block to tie the set at 25-25. Brown pounded a kill to give Penn State the lead and put down another to secure set two for Penn State, 27-25.

The third set started out close until a 4-0 Cal run gave the Bears a 7-4 advantage. Wilson cut off the run with a kill, but a PSU error and a Cal block moved the Bears ahead by four, 10-6. Penn State called a timeout and used a 7-2 run to take a slim 13-12 lead forcing the Bears to call a timeout. The Nittany Lions followed the break with a 4-0 run, including two Longo aces for a 17-12 lead. Cal burned its second timeout. Murrey followed the timeout with a kill, but Brown fired back with her own to keep PSU up by five, 18-13. Two consecutive Cal points had the Bears within three, 18-15. The teams each registered a point before a 4-0 PSU run had the Lions leading by seven, 23-16. Cal cut off the PSU run with a block before a Wilson kill put Penn State in match-point position. The Bears held Penn State to three match-points before the Lions took a timeout. Slay closed out the set and the match with a kill.

FOUR CONSECUTIVE TITLES

Penn State won four consecutive national championships, the most consecutive national titles ever for a Division I volleyball squad. The Nittany Lions join Division II Concordia-St. Paul (2007-10) and Division III Washington-St. Louis (1991-96) as the only schools in collegiate athletics to win at least four straight volleyball national championships.

It was the fourth straight year that Penn State and California played each other in the NCAA Tournament.

This was the fifth NCAA championship of Coach Russ Rose's career, the most national championships ever for a Division I volleyball head coach. He also joins Doug Dannevik of Division III UC San Diego and Teri Clemens of Division III Washington-St. Louis as the only collegiate volleyball coaches to have ever won at least five national championships.

.468

Wilson finished her career with a .468 hitting percentage, setting a new Division I record for career hitting percentage. That is also the second-highest career percentage for any division.

MVP HONORS

Deja McClendon joined Stanford's Kerri Walsh as the only freshmen to win Tournament Most Valuable Player honors.

.316

Penn State hit .316 in the Finals, a new season Finals hitting percentage record for the 25-point rally scoring era. It is also the fifth-highest hitting percentage in the Finals all-time.

41

This was Penn State's 41st overall team championship for the school, eighth-most among all Division I and National Collegiate title holders.

Penn State seniors Arielle Wilson, Blair Brown and Alyssa D'Errico join a select group of student-athletes that have won national championships every year of their collegiate careers

2013 NCAA NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

SEATTLE - Dec. 21, 2013 - The No. 2 Penn State women's volleyball team (34-2) captured its sixth NCAA women's volleyball national championship in program history, rallying past No. 12 Wisconsin (28-10) in four sets (25-19, 26-24, 20-25, 25-23) Saturday evening in KeyArena. The victory marks the fifth national title in the last seven years for the Nittany Lions.

Earning their sixth national title, the Nittany Lions are now tied with Stanford for the most women's volleyball national championships.

Senior Ariel Scott fueled the offense with a match-high 21 kills, adding five digs. Senior Katie Slay also tallied double-digit kills with 14, adding three digs and three blocks. Senior Deja McClendon rounded out the double-digit performers with 11 kills, adding eight digs. The trio all earned spots in the NCAA All-Tournament team.

Junior Micha Hancock paced all three attackers to double-digit kills, dishing out 48 assists, adding 16 digs for a double-double. She also continued her stellar performance from behind the service line, registering three aces. Hancock earned the NCAA Tournament Most Outstanding Player honor for her performances against the Badgers and the Huskies. Sophomore Megan Courtney and junior Dominique Gonzalez anchored the defense with 20 digs each.

Behind early in the first set, 5-3, Courtney pounded a pair of consecutive kills to tie it up, 5-all. The Badgers responded with two more kills to break away with a two-point lead, 7-5. The two teams continued trade points until Penn State used a 3-1 spurt to capture a 15-13 advantage. The Nittany Lions maintained the narrow advantage up until the midway point in the frame, when Wisconsin climbed within one, 16-15, following a kill from Badger Deme Morales.

Regrouping, PSU put together a 4-0 streak to move ahead by five, 20-15, forcing the Badgers to call timeout. Following the break, Wisconsin fought within four, 22-18, but a kill from Slay and a solo stuff from Courtney put PSU at set-point, 24-18. The Badgers held off one attempt, but Scott closed out a 25-19 win in the first set with a kill to put Penn State up 1-0 in the match.

The Nittany Lions stormed out to a 6-1 lead in the second set, capped off by three consecutive kills from Scott. Wisconsin narrowed the margin to three, 6-3, helped out by back-to-back kills from Morales, but PSU used a 5-2 streak to stretch the lead to as many as six, 11-5. The Badgers rebounded with a 6-2 strike to arrive within two, 13-11. Slay attempted to spark some momentum with a kill, but Wisconsin answered with a 4-1 run to knot the frame, 15-15. Penn State and Wisconsin tied the stanza two more times before a PSU attack error and a Badger kill put UW ahead by two, 19-17.

Wisconsin pushed ahead by two, 21-19, before Penn State used a 3-0 spurt to move ahead by one, 22-21. Looking to close out the set, the Badgers used a 3-1 spurt to make it 24-23, but a service error tied the stanza, 24-all. Scott answered with two consecutive kills to lock up a 26-24 win in the second set.

Penn State came out of the break firing, using a 5-1 streak for an early lead. Wisconsin quickly erased the advantage, using a 4-0 run to knot the frame, 5-5. UW and PSU tied up the stanza three more times before the Nittany Lions used a 3-1 strike to crack open an 8-8 tie, moving up by two, 10-8.

With Penn State leading by one, 12-11, Wisconsin constructed a 6-0 run to take control of a five-point lead, 17-12. Halting the momentum, PSU used a 3-1 stretch to come within three, 18-15. Trailing by as many as four, 21-17, Grant attempted to spark an offensive push with a kill, but the Badgers answered with two more points to make it 23-18. Unable to settle into a rhythm, the Nittany Lions held off one set-point attempt, 24-20, but a service error handed the Badgers a 25-20 win in the third.

Leading by one in the fourth set, 7-6, Wisconsin used a 4-0 streak to claim a three-point lead, 10-7. Rallying back, Penn State used a 6-1 run to take over a two-point lead, 13-11. A PSU attack error and a kill from Wisconsin tied up the stanza, 13-13, but a kill from Scott and a block from Slay and Courtney kept the Nittany Lions on top, 15-13. Unable to shake the Badgers, Wisconsin responded with a 4-0 strike to go up by two, 17-15, forcing Pen State to call a timeout.

Fighting point-for-point, Penn State and Wisconsin kept it tied two more times before UW broke open an 18-all tie with a 4-1 streak to move ahead by three, 22-19. Hanging on, the Nittany Lions answered with a 4-1 run to knot the frame, 23-23. An ace from Hancock and a kill from McClendon finished off a 25-23 win in the fourth set and a victory in the match.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

Lady Lions take on Alcorn St.

By Walt Moody
wmoody@centredaily.com

When you look at Penn State's basketball schedule and see a couple of opponents that will be huge underdogs, you might think the No. 17 Lady Lions are looking to ease into conference play.

After all, Coquese Washington's squad (7-3) already has played three ranked teams, including No. 1 Connecticut and No. 4 Notre Dame.

But starting with Sunday's 11 a.m. tip against Alcorn State, these last two non-conference games hold special meaning for the Lady Lions' newest players.

Members of the six-player freshman class will have a chance to show how much they've learned and can contribute before Big Ten play opens at No. 22 Iowa on Jan. 5.

Home games against Alcorn State (1-7) Sunday and Hartford (2-9) on Dec. 29 should provide playing time for those freshmen.

"In the next couple of games, we're trying to prepare for the league," said assistant coach Fred Chmiel, who filled in for Washington during the team's weekly news conference. "We want to know what we have in the stable. Those kids are going to play. We're going to put them out there and see what they can do in the next two games and get ready for a tough conference schedule."

That's the kind of news the freshmen like to hear.

"To know that we have big games coming up that we'll be expected to play big minutes in is always a good

109 MATCHES OF DOMINANCE

No one sitting in Rec Hall on Sept. 21, 2007, watching the Nittany Lions defeating Michigan State, would have thought they were witnessing the beginning of a historical streak.

It ranks second in NCAA history among organized sports, second only to the Miami men's tennis team's 137-match winning streak from 1957- 64. The record-breaking span of victories lasted more than 35 months, encompassing an NCAA record 111 wins in straight sets across 1,085 days.

Almost three years to the day the streak began, it comes to an end after a 3-0 loss to Stanford, the same team which sparked the record-breaking stretch in 2007.

May 10, 2005:

Dobrodosli ("welcome") to the Penn State Volleyball European tour 2005! Today was our first full day here and we have already done so much! Staying in the scenic city of Izola, we are pretty immersed in Slovenian culture. It's been drizzling a bit but we are staying right on the harbor of the Adriatic coast in the Hotel Marina and it is absolutely gorgeous. The brightly-colored buildings, green mountains and crystal clear sea make everything seem sunny. There is not a whole lot of English spoken here, so we stick out a lil' bit. The people have been pretty nice for the most part though, and we've managed to learn a bit of Slovenian: please = "prosim", thank you = "hvala", how much = "koliko" and "bela kava brez koffeina" = decaff cafe latte... I've already used that one about 4 times. All the girls are having a great time. We practiced last night after we got in and then played our first match today against a club team from Croatia. They were pretty young so we won all 5 games easily. We travel to the capital city of LJubljana tomorrow to play another match and see the sites. We will leave early in the morning to tour the city and then play in the afternoon. Tim and Jo from BringItUSA have really planned out a great trip for us. All the girls are really excited and the parents and boosters are having a good time too... with a few exceptions. So far the Naylors lost their luggage and got locked out of their room, the Janias tried to use a $1USD in an Italian Coke machine and then got their debit card chopped up in Izola, and Mrs. Holm tried to play matchmaker with the manager of a Slovenian pizzeria (which would be alright if the service wasn't so sub-par). So, to sum up... everyone is over their jet lag, we're loving Slovenia, and can't wait to get some more competition under our belts as we continue to travel the world!! Ciao!

May 11, 2005:

Ciao! Greetings from Slovenia. We started off this morning with a European breakfast at The Hotel Marina and then headed off to spend the day in Ljubljana, the capital of Slovenia. Upon arrival, we went to the tourist information center and got brochures of the entire city followed by a train ride to the medieval Ljubljana Castle. The castle is a fine feature of the city and nowadays it is a popular tourist spot. After the train ride back into the city square, we split up for a day of site seeing and fun. Our next step was a bus ride to our match. We played five games against a team called Nova Gorica, winning four of the five games. The match was very lively with a few face shots and a lot of cheering. The owner of the gym we played in also owned a restaurant nearby and he invited us to enjoy his five course cuisine. The food and atmosphere was amazing and the team, coaches, parents, and boosters all had a fabulous time. Tomorrow we leave Slovenia and are off to Venice, Italy.

-- Maggie Case

May 12, 2005:

Today we finally woke up to the blue skies of Slovenia, only to say goodbye as we loaded the bus to continue on to Venice, Italy. After the bus ride we laced up our sneakers, stole the nearest "Vaporetto" (a motorboat used as a canal bus in Venice) and raced to the city - it was all Sam's idea! (Okay, so maybe the dramatic entrance is a slight exaggeration, but you know how girls can be.) After we docked near Piazza San Marco, the real adventures began. We had the entire day to absorb the city, and that we did. These are some of the interesting things I learned today:

1.) Imagine literally stepping into a world unlike anything you have ever seen. Imagine walking through massive crowds of people all speaking different languages. Now imagine seeing absolutely breathtaking architecture and scenery all around you. And finally, imagine 14 young American women (plus one Canadian) gracefully dodging hundreds of swooping pigeons while trying to take it all in at once. Thankfully, we all have cat-like reflexes and nobody was seriously injured.

2.) It's true what they say - Italian men really aren't afraid to sweep a woman off her feet! Maggie, Ashley Fidler, Melissa and I ate a delicious meal along the Grand Canal and as we were thanking the waiters and saying goodbye, the chef came from behind the counter, pinched my cheeks and picked me up in the middle of the restaurant! I am 6-5 ... he was probably 5-7 ... you do the math! Today marks the first time any man has dared to accomplish what he did. Sorprendente! (Amazing!)

On a more serious note, today was a perfect example of why we are so thankful to be in Italy doing what we love, and we are thankful to be sharing it with some of the people who helped make it possible. We were all able to see Venice through our own eyes and learned a lot about the culture and history. We split up into different groups and spent the day shopping and exploring all the city has to offer. It was a beautiful day in Venice, but there is still work to be done! We left the sinking city behind and drove to Pordenone, where we will play the local team tomorrow night. Kim and Kaleena have been playing very well, so tomorrow will be a good opportunity for some new faces to step up and contribute! We will keep you posted, but until next time, there is volleyball to be played and more dessert to be eaten! CIAO!

-- Cassy Salyer

May 13, 2005:

Boun Giorno fellow Americanos (Good morning fellow Americans!). We spent day 6 in Pordenone. After breakfast most of us enjoyed the downtown shopping of the city. This city was most like the cities that we are used to in the United States. There are more cars and traffic here then in the previous places we have been. Small boutiques lined the streets with an occasional department store. In the afternoon we ventured to the Villa Manin, which is a palace of the former Doge. The enormous structure and beautiful architecture were overwhelming. Unique art lined the walls of one of the sections of the castle, while other sections displayed old weaponry and carriages. The chapel was detailed in elegant artwork. We did not have the opportunity to view the actual rooms of the castle because of restoration, but we were told that Napoleon had slept there and that his room was preserved. From the castle we came back to the hotel to enjoy the traditional Italian pregame meal, which was actually breakfast. This included cereal, fruit, yogurt, and various pastries. On the way to the gym our tour guides indulged us with the translations of a local newspaper article that was about the team being in the town. The article was informative and contained a picture of us receiving our Big Ten trophy. The match was held at a nearby town owned gym. We won four out of the five games that we played against Pallavolo Pordenone in front of a very lively crowd. The match was the most the competitive one since we have been here and was fun to play in. After we played, we ate dinner (at 10:30 at night). It is custom to eat pasta as an appetizer, but we did not know this before so most of us ate it as a meal. Little did we know that we were also having meat, fries, salad, and dessert! It was a great ending to a wonderful day! Arrivederci (goodbye)!!

May 14, 2005:

Ciao fellow Americans and Canadians,

Well, our arrival into Pesaro came on our official graduation day, had we been in State College. So, as our final college project, here is our journal entry! On the bus yesterday, driving from Pordenone to Pesaro, we had to present our research on the Marche region to everyone on the bus, complete with our graduation caps!

We are planning on spending 3 days total in this region, the first two in Pesaro, and the third in Comunanza. The region is pronounced "lay markay," and in English, it translates to "the Marches." The region lies on the eastern seaboard in central Italy, bordered by the Adriatic Sea to the east, and the Appenine mountains to the central part of the country. Pesaro is the capital city of this province, and is a bustling seaside resort town. Fortunately, we're here before most of the tourist season begins, so we've had the town all to ourselves!

When we arrived to our beach front hotel yesterday, we all ate lunch together, before we had a bit of down time last night. A few of us had the opportunity to accompany Coach Rose and Tim Kelly (in charge of our tour, he runs Bring It USA) to a professional women's volleyball match in a small town about 1.5 hours away from here. The gymnasium was full of enthusiastic and loud spectators, and it was a lot of fun! It was a match between the 2nd and 3rd place teams in the A2 division of the Italian professional league, with the winner of this match having the opportunity to move up to the A1 league next year. Wiz Bachman, former UCLA standout, was playing for the team that ended up losing in four games.

Today we had some free time to take in the sites of Pesaro, which is the hometown of famed opera composer, Giaochino Rossini. This evening we had a chance to play our fourth match, against a team from Gabiche, Italy, about 15 minutes from Pesaro. We won the four games we played in the match, and every member of the team had a chance to play. Tomorrow we'll have a chance to go to an Italian Catholic mass if we want, before getting back on the road and heading over to Comunanza. From what we've heard so far, it's a small mountain town, about 3 blocks long and 1 block wide. We'll be there only one night, and the gentleman who runs the hotel/restaurant where we'll be staying is so excited to host all of us! People drive from miles around to eat at his restaurant, so we're looking forward to tasting the food for ourselves!! We have two matches left on this trip, one tomorrow night in Comunanza, and the last in Rome on Tuesday night. Buonas sera from Italy!

After winding through the Italian hillsides, our team arrived in the town of Comunanza. The town was small with a population of around 3,000 people. We stayed where executives generally stayed when they would visit the major factory just outside of the town. It was very nice place to stay as five of the girls got to stay in a 3-bedroom apartment that had two bathrooms and a dining room. Once we got settled in our rooms the team got on our jerseys and walked to the gym. We played a club team from Amandola. Their team was short a few players so Ashley Fidler volunteered to play with the other team. We won the match in 3 games, while Kris Brown and Kaleena even got a chance to play front row. That night we had what most of the team considered our best meal of the trip. It was a traditional Italian family meal with multiple courses and elaborate dishes. One of the first dishes we ate was intestine and eggs. It was a long meal the lasted late into the night. The next morning we were off to begin our long drive to Rome. We wove through the mountains and hills on roads that you wouldn't think buses could travel through. After nearly a five-hour trip we finally arrived in Rome, the 'eternal city.' We checked into the hotel and were immediately off to the Metro station just a few blocks away. The Metro is very small and crowded because the designers of the Metro wanted to avoid digging railways under ancient Roman architecture. Our first stop took us to see the Spanish Steps, which was a series of three levels of steps leading up to a church. The lining of the steps was covered in flowers and it was a great place to take a team picture. Our next stop was the Trevi Fountain. This was the first elaborate sculpture work we saw in Rome and we were in awe. It is said that you must throw a coin into the fountain but you must throw the coin with your back facing the fountain. The number of coins you throw also determines your fortune. One coin and you'll return to Rome, two coins and you'll fall in love. With our backs facing the fountain, Maggie, Cassy, Fidler, and I threw in two coins each.

Our last stop of the day was to visit the Pantheon. As we walked inside we were amazed by the massive pillars holding the structure up. They lead us into a large circular dome with more sculptures and a roof with a giant circular hole allowing sunlight to pour inside. The basement of the building is also a resting place for people such as Raffaello a famous painter, Voltaire a philosopher, Murrie and Piere Currie both famous scientists as well as Victor Hugo the first president of unified Italy. After seeing the Pantheon we were all tired and grabbed some dinner, found the Metro and went back to our hotel.

Today (Tuesday, May 17th) we got up and again took the Metro to see the Coliseum. I stepped out of the station and all I could see was the building. The structure was built between 12AD and 80AD and most of it still remains standing today. When it was first built it was called the Amphitheatre Flavium, and held up to 50,000 people. It was used to hold battles between animals and humans along with chariot races and mock naval battles.. The rest of the day we were able to tour around and explore the city of Rome. Other sites we saw included the Forum, the Arch of Constantine, and the Monument of Vittoriale. All of the sites were unique and amazing in their own respect. It was odd to see such monuments scattered amongst current shops and restaurants including McDonalds.

Tonight we played our 6th and final match in a town of Usaro, which is thirty minutes to an hour away from Rome depending on traffic. We played one of our more competitive matches against a club team called As Fidia Ladispoli. We won all five games although it was a bittersweet victory. It was the last time our three seniors; Tab, Syndie and Ashley would play in their PSU uniforms. The club team had ordered pizza for us and we shared it with them before getting on the bus and heading back to Rome.

Tomorrow is our last full day. We are going to see the Vatican City in the morning and the Pope may be speaking. The trip is almost over and it is going very fast but I'm very excited to get up tomorrow and see the Sistine Chapel.

May 10, 2009:

Greetings from Sao Paulo!

Today was the first day we spent in Sao Paulo, and boy was it eventful! We began the day enjoying a nice complimentary breakfast from the hotel and then all jumped into our awesome two-story bus to head into town. We toured the very interesting and historical city of Sao Paulo with our wonderful tour guide Morris (at least I think that is how you spell his name =). He taught us many, many things about the city and a few things stood out to me in the outing. First, Sao Paulo specifically is famous for its graffiti. The artists take much pride their artwork while creating competitions with other artists around the city to see who can create the most difficult piece of work. Second, if women around the city want to get married, they must pray to St. Anthony so that he will help them find a husband. (As soon as I learned this, I held a small prayer session with a few of my teammates).

After several hours of touring the city, we stopped at the Estadio Municipa to buy tickets to the professional soccer game. The Corinthians, or the home team, is the professional team that Cristiano Ronaldo plays for, so we were all very excited to have the opportunity to see him play! After buying our tickets, we took a quick trip down to a market place where we shopped for an hour or so and then ate an incredible lunch. The food, as we have all discovered, is incredible and it is so much fun to try all of these new dishes and experience all the new tastes (especially this drink they call Guarana, it is simply delicious!).

After lunch, we drove back to the stadium two hours before the game started to enjoy the pregame festivities. In one corner of the stadium, the away team was banging their drums and screaming their teams' anthem. In the other corner, and scattered all over the stadium, the Corinthian fans, dressed in black and white, were stomping and yelling at the fans dressed in red and green. There were policia stationed all around the fence separating us from the field to prevent any sort of fights that might erupt during the match if the game was to get close. It was one of the most invigorating and exciting things I've ever experienced. I know that we have some of the most dedicated fans in the country, but the way these fans supported their team was just incredible.

The game began and the screaming continued. The away team scored the first goal, which completely infuriated all of the Corinthian fans. We weren't able to watch the entire game because after sitting in the stands for four hours we all became incredibly hungry and exhausted. We drove to a local pizza parlor which turned out to be quite the adventure. They brought many different types of pizza out for each of us to try, (it would take way too long for me to try and list them all!) but by far the best part of the meal, were the three different dessert pizzas they brought out at the end; one had bananas and this cinnamon spread on it, one had strawberries and dark chocolate and the last one had chocolate and shredded coconut. Absolutely delicious!! Well we finally made it back to the hotel after an incredibly long day and it's time I get to bed! Boa Noite

Today was our first day of playing and I think everyone was anxious to see the different style of play here. We started off the morning with the complimentary breakfast downstairs of the hotel where there were delicious pastries and fruit. We got on our awesome, two story bus and took off to practice. When we arrived at the practice facility, we were in awe of its beauty. There were big beautiful trees everywhere surrounding this huge sports facility. But the first thing we all noticed was the gigantic water slide that we all wanted to go down. When we got in to the gym where we practiced, we all put on our shoes and kneepads and did our normal warm up. While we were waiting for the balls to come, we did some blocking and digging stuff. Then Coach had us circle up while Jess and Tice had a pretty bad wrestling match.... no one won. The balls finally arrived and we got to adapt to the balls that they use here.

After practice, we got to tour the facility. The facility used to be owned by a bank that sponsored teams but now is more of a country club. Lunch came after the tour and we went to a place where there was more meat, of course. It was a small buffet style with salad, sausage, fries, chicken and other things. They brought meat around the tables and everyone's drink of choice still seems to be Guarana. Right after lunch we went to our match.

We arrived at the facility and immediately started to warm up. We split the court with the team during hitting lines. The club team had girls from the ages of 17 to 21 and they were pretty athletic. We played four games with them and won all four. After we played, we exchanged t-shirts with them and then took a group picture.

This was another fun day filled with new experiences!

May 12, 2009:

The morning started out at the hotel, with the usual complimentary breakfast, in which many of us have become accustomed to crapes (thin French style pancake). You can either add delicious jelly type topping or chocolate, both team favorites. Everyone dressed in the casual Brazilian type attire of shorts and tank tops ready for another adventurous day. The plan for the afternoon was a tour of a different part of the city of Sao Paulo; also known as the shopping district, stop by a well-known park for lunch and a little walking around.

First of all, I must say, people down here drive CRAZY. They don't use turn signals and just weave in and out of lanes, not to mention the motorcycles that just drive up the center of the lane recklessly. It is an incredible sight to see, so forgive me if I forget different things about today, I got distracted watching the cars fly back and forth. So now to the good stuff, we started with a tour of the scenery on the way to this famous shopping street. We drove around beautiful estates of once famous people, hospitals and gorgeous malls. Among the other sites we drove past, was the Sao Paulo futbol club, another soccer stadium of a pro team in Sao Paulo.

After all this driving we stopped at our first destination, the luxurious shopping strip where we recognized many names such as LaCoste, Adidas, Nike, Timberland, and Tommy Hilfiger. One name we did not recognize but were informed of prior to our adventure was the Havaianas, the most famous rubber flip-flops that originated from Brazil. Many of us bought pairs for family as well as friends and ourselves. Unfortunately as well as fortunately, we were limited to half an hour of wandering along this strip (saving many of us lots of Reais).

The next stop was the beautiful park called Ibirapuera Park. It is four miles by four miles along the exterior borders and is full of green grass, ponds, bridges and restaurants. Unfortunately we were as a whole pretty worn out and didn't get the chance to explore more of the park after our delicious buffet style lunch. Clara (AD, our tour guide's, seven year old niece) has been teaching us Portuguese in exchange for English and sign language, thanks to Tice and Alisha. So of course, at lunch, we were asking the vocabulary queen about lettuce, ice cream and all other sorts of food on the table. After we finished lunch, (no caffeine) Christa and I enjoyed a small (maybe a half cup) of the ever so popular café and well, we were bouncing off the walls with energy for a bit. After we left the outdoor restaurant we walked to a bridge that oversaw a small pond with tons of fish in it (we were told were served them at the restaurant we ate at). We took pictures of the horizon behind us, which happened to be a cityscape of Sao Paulo. Shortly after visiting the near by bridge we walked to the bus and headed back to our hotel for a little nap before the match ahead of us that night.

We left the hotel at 5 pm for our match that began at 7 pm. We arrived at the match SUPER early and proceeded to warm up for an hour and half (because it was a real match). As we all warmed up it was very strange to see a Penn State jersey on everyone for another match together. As the match started in a somewhat small gym at Uniltalo, the fans packed it in and the noise was overpowering. The first game we came out a bit slow and went back and forth with the other team until we finally pulled out the close 29-27 win. Did I mention we played by international rules so some things were different. For instance I couldn't serve and no back row subs could enter more than once. We came out a bit stronger at the start of the second game and ended up winning 25-18.

After the match we exchanged shirts with some of the Uniltalo players and we then hopped on the bus, took a short bus ride to another buffet style, meat serving restaurant, in which they bring the meat to the table and you say nao obrigada or sim obrigada (no thank you or yes thank you). We met a magician who had the best card tricks I have ever seen; in fact I am still stunned. Hope you enjoyed the day vicariously through me.

May 13, 2009:

Today we woke up at 7:30 to play the semi-pro team, it was a mix of 18 to 25 years old women. We went 3-0 (25-23 25-21 25-23) and then decided to play another game and lost 22-25. All and all we went 3-1 and they were a pretty good team. Once we finished playing, we went straight to the mall to shop. It was a shopping center that was over four levels with about 400 stores, many of us ate at McDonald's, Burger King and Pizza Hut, but a few of us ventured away and ate the local food. I personally ate at Burger King; I needed a break. After spending 4 hours in the mall we then traveled to the airport where we had to leave our awesome bus driver and amazing tour guide. We got to the airport a little earlier than expected because we were all pooped from shopping that we showed up an hour early to leave the shopping center. We boarded the plane for Rio and it was a quick trip, like State College to Philly. Once we landed we grabbed our bags and were headed to dinner. Once again it was buffet style, but I feel like we have all tried everything at this point so there wasn't much pigging out. After dinner it was back to the hotel and a new twist on things, three people in a room, so it will be interesting trying to get ready in the morning. Tonight we are going out to talk with one on the Brazilian national players, Celine.

May 14, 2009:

After an amazing first night in Rio de Janeiro, we began our journey of sightseeing around 9:30 am. The first thing we did was visit to the largest metropolitan forest of them all. This forest is found on Corco Vado, which is a huge mountain. On top of this mountain is a famous statue, which stands 30 meters high, called The Christ Redeemer. The statue was built in 1931 and it overlooks this gorgeous city. In order to get to this enormous statue we had to take a train up to the very top of the mountain. The ride was not long but very relaxing. There were guys on the very first cart who were playing music and dancing. They were doing it for money and because it was something they seemed to enjoy doing.

When arrived to the top we got off the train and continued our journey toward The Christ Redeemer. If you decided to walk to the statue you had 250 flights of stairs to get there. But, if you waited in the long line for the elevator it would take you the 10 flights to get to the top. Most of us decided to enjoy the experience and take the stairs. On the way up was the most amazing view I and everyone else had seen since we arrived in Brazil. We were not only at the very top of this huge mountain, but we were overlooking the beautiful scenery of Rio de Janeiro. You better believe that tons of photos were taken of The Redeemer and of everyone's smiling faces.

After a breathtaking adventure at the top of this mountain we headed back down by train and loaded the bus. We were headed to lunch at 12 pm and of course it was buffet-style eating. By 1:30 pm we were on our way back to the lovely hotel. We got back to the hotel at about 2 pm and we all decided to make our way to the beach. We changed out of our clothes and were on our way to get some sun. The beach is directly in front of our hotel so we walked over as a group, set up our chairs and towels and enjoyed the people, sun, and the pretty scenery. We ended up leaving around 4 pm and headed back to the hotel to get ready for dinner.

Dinner began at 7 pm; we all cleaned up very nicely and loaded the bus. We arrived at a pizza place, where they had all types of pizzas - shrimp, meat lovers, veggie, mushroom and Brazilian sausage. For dessert we had chocolate covered with strawberries, chocolate covered with M&M's, banana covered with cinnamon all laid on thin crust. As you can image dinner was very fulfilling!

After dinner, we attended this amazing Brazilian show, by the name of Plata Forma. The show was interesting and entertaining. There was a lot of good Brazilian music and dancing by men and women. It reminded me of Las Vegas because of how colorful all the costumes were and boy did they sure know how to move!!

May 16, 2009:

It was a sad and rainy morning when we had to leave Rio. So far it was our favorite city, and we weren't sure it could get much better. We made the long bus trip to Saquarema. The bus was filled with sleepers and movie watchers. Jenna, our trainer, was on a mission to watch She's The Man. For those of you that aren't familiar with this movie, it's a youthful comedy where Amanda Bynes pretends to be her brother at his new school for two weeks while he's away in London. She tries to prove herself as a men's soccer player and falls for her roommate/teammate in the process. Needless to say, Coach was not thrilled about the selection and running as punishment was mentioned several times!

We sat down to a late lunch and then the afternoon was left to our own choice of beach exploring, relaxing in the courtyard, napping, or getting on the computer to keep in touch with the rest of the world. I sit in my room which is located right next to the pool and entrance to the beach where I can hear waves crashing and Brazilian music playing in the background, and I wonder how I could possibly feel more at ease. Moments like this make you realize how much of an opportunity this whole trip is. A thank you goes out to everyone who's had their hand in making it possible because experiencing this country the way that we have, meeting the people we've met, and sharing it with each other is something that we'll never forget.

Next we traveled to the training center. There weren't a lot of fans, but then again the gym wasn't really made to hold people as much as it was made to be set up for practice and training. From hitting warm ups you could tell that this team was an excitable bunch. They were young, fresh, and excited to finally be playing someone as opposed to training everyday. We squeaked out a win in game one not playing our best. Not playing our best turned to not playing well at all in the next two games. We would get small leads and a missed serve, errors on our part, or a really bad call to their advantage would allow them to catch up, take the lead, and win those games. We came back to win the fourth, not wanting to let them think we didn't come to play. A fifth and final game was played and we got down right off the bat just like in our Nebraska match. We were able to draw on that experience and make plays at the net and in the back-row to keep us in it. We eventually fought back for the win.

We headed back to our hotel for a night of dinner, enjoying each other's company, and peaceful sleep. Signing off from Brazil…

I'm going to start this off a little differently today and begin by thanking everyone that made this trip possible. I cannot express the gratitude we feel in being able to experience such a beautiful and kind culture that enables us to play the sport we love and find great competition (and great people to play against). To be able to spend this time with my teammates, coaches and members of the booster family only enhanced our adventures further and I could not have asked for a better group of people to join me in this great experience. This trip has been the chance of a lifetime, unforgettable and unbelievable, truly a dream come true for all those involved.

As gorgeous as Buzios was immediately, we only got a small taste of its beauty during our first night here. Today, we walked (everything is extremely convenient and in walking distance) to the pier to take a boat tour around the islands surrounding Buzios. Within minutes of boarding the boat it was a crowd favorite; the view was absolutely breathtaking in every direction. We continued to gasp at the sights of the mountains in the background and bask in the sunlight until we hit the next island. Closer to land than the previous stop, we decided to get a short workout in by swimming to the island. Five minutes later we all washed up on shore (a little worse for the wear), took the island by storm and claimed it as our own with pictures as proof. A few of the girls also snorkeled and saw "tropical fish" in the shallows. Needless to say, once the boat returned to the pier we were all trying to convince the captain to "accidentally" miss his mark with the rope so we could go on another loop around Buzios.

For dinner, we all found another buffet with an excellent assortment of fresh meats, made to order pastas, salads, fruits and even pizza. We sufficiently stuffed ourselves until we were ready for another night of shopping downtown for different Brazilian knick knacks to bring back for our loved ones (no spoilers!). We also found a place that made the largest chocolate crepes I have ever seen and everyone gathered around to try them out. I would highly recommend a chocolate crepe from Buzios if you ever find yourself here.

Now, sitting in the hotel after a long night of wandering from shop to shop, the girls sit around on their computers talking to parents or friends and challenge some of the coaches and boosters to card games. With only two days left in Brazil, everyone is starting to realize that this dream of a vacation is actually coming to an end. The experiences we have had the blessing to be a part of are once in a lifetime, and the opportunity to interact with such an incredible culture and see a beautiful part of the world was unimaginable. We cannot thank you enough.

May 20, 2009:

Today has been a very relaxing day. All of us girls woke up around 9:15 for breakfast and then left the hotel for the beach. On the way there, we got easily distracted and stopped in several shops along the way. Then, we went to a beach that was about a 15 minute walk from the hotel. It was a small, nice beach with a few restaurants right on the the beach. After a couple hours of catching some rays we decided we better leave to make it to lunch on time.

Tonight we ate our last pizza dinner. Pizza has been one of the favorite meals here in Brazil, mainly because of the amazing desert pizzas they make here. It was a great last dinner to have in Brazil.

After dinner we all headed to one of our favorite places that makes delicious crepes (as if we didn't already have enough desert). All of us ordered different ones from banana and chocolate to ice cream and chocolate. This place is very fun because not only is there great dessert, but there is a DJ playing music, and there are ping pong tables and bean bags to sit in around some tables. It seemed as though Penn State had taken over the place because every where you looked, you would see someone from our group. After that, everyone headed back to the hotel to hang out before bed.

This trip has been a dream come true. There have been many times during this trip that I have talked with some of the girls and we discuss how lucky we are to have as much support as we have and been given an opportunity to broaden our horizons by experiencing another culture as beautiful as Brazil's. I will never forget this trip and how much fun I have been able to have with all my best friends

-- Katie Kabbes

May 21, 2009:

The end of the trip has finally come! We all woke up sporadically on Thursday and had a pretty laid back morning. It was very overcast, so most of us headed into downtown to do some last minute personal shopping, gift buying, and getting rid of any Brazilian money we had left burning holes in our pockets. A few of us treated ourselves to manicures and pedicures, and Katie took the risk of getting her hair cut from someone who didn't speak a word of English (but don't worry, it turned out great).

We met up for lunch at Boom, the same restaurant we ate lunch at our first afternoon in Buzios. The food (and more importantly the desserts) were just as fantastic as last time. After a quick lunch, we all headed back to the hotel to take a stab at packing all of our new and old belongings up one last time. It was tough, but just about all of us managed to shove our clothes and gifts into our suitcases (with the exception of Heather's rain stick and Jess's hammock). After stuffing everything into the bus, we started our bumpy trip back to Rio.

For dinner, some of us experienced Bob's Burgers for the first time, which is the burger chain created in Brazil by an American in the absence of McDonald's back in the early 1900's. At the gate, we parted with Nestor, our faithful tour guide. Nestor was a great addition to the trip as well, and we all appreciated his help and his insight into the Brazilian culture. There was plenty of time to kick back in the airport terminal while we awaited our flight. Once we boarded the plane, it was time to settle in and sleep our way back to the New York City.

This was such an incredible experience for every one of us. I don't think we can even begin to thank the Boosters and everyone who helped make all of this possible. Nothing can compare to the volleyball experience we got here and all the memorable times we had!

May 10, 2013: Hello from Slovenia!

Today, we played the Croatian National Team in Maribor, Slovenia and tied 2-2. The first game started off a little rocky, but maybe it was just nerves that got us at first. The second set, we gained a bit of confidence and proceeded to win into the fourth set. Unfortunately, we didn't win the fourth set, which definitely lit a fire under us to play them tomorrow. I feel we have the confidence to play better tomorrow in our next match against them because we know that we're capable.

After the match, we took quick showers and headed to dinner where we had a buffet of meats, salad, fries, and other native Slovenian foods. It was delicious! In order to get to dinner, we had to ride a gondola up and down this huge mountain-although it was a great view, I was pretty horrified, but definitely enjoyed the new experience after looking back at it all. Following dinner, we went on a little adventure to explore what was on top of the mountain. We came in contact with a spa and a creepy old-school church that looked like it hadn't been touched in years.

After all of the food, games, and exploring, we all headed back down the mountain via gondola (I wasn't as scared this time because it was dark) and went to the DraÅ› Hotel to get gelato-that was pure happiness. Now, it's time to head to bed and get ready for all the activities to come tomorrow. -Nia Grant

Our first morning in Slovenia was a really exciting one! We started off with a team breakfast at 7:30 in the morning, then we had a practice--working on some serving and passing. After practice we all headed back to our apartments and got changed and headed up the mountain for a team challenge on a rope course. We all arrived at the bottom of the ski lift and got on the lift to go up the mountain to the course. The view from the lift and on top of the mountain overlooking Maribor was incredible! You could see all the city and the rest of the Pohorje mountain range from the top. Then the first thing we did was get in our harnesses and ready to go on the ropes! One thing we did was climb to the top of this telephone pole one at a time--it was really high!!

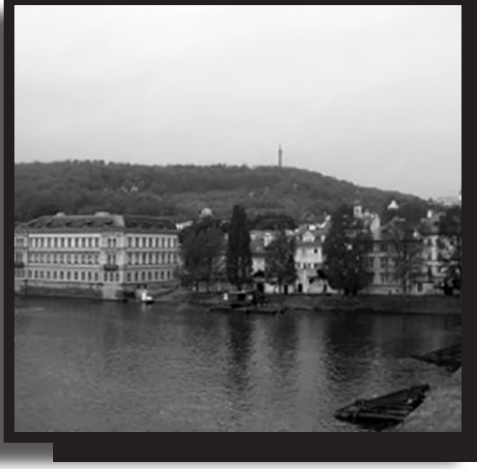
Then we had to stand on top of the pole and turn around and jump and our teammates would catch us (by pulling ropes on our harnesses). It was really scary and cool at the same time. Another thing we did was a giant swing thing (kind of) off the side of the mountain! It was scary, because we swung out over the trees. Which, interesting fact, Slovenia is home to over 400 brown bears...luckily we didn't see any in the forest. We had a nice lunch on the mountain then we got to take the alpine slide down. The alpine slide was like a one-man roller coaster down the side of the mountain. It was so much fun, you could get up to 25MPH!. After that we had a little time to ourselves to catch up on some sleep before the match. This trip has been amazing so far. We have got to see and do so many terrific things here. I want to thank all of you boosters for making this happen. This is a trip I will always remember fondly.

- Laura Caraway

May 9, 2013 Hello to All!

I hope everyone is well back in the states. We're continuing on our great Europe adventure today as we arrived in Maribor. It is beautiful here, but slightly in the middle of nowhere. There is a training center right next to what appears to be a ski resort. There are beautiful mountains all around us and the sunset was breathtaking. When we arrived today we got off the bus, and we went straight into practice. The facilities are new and in great condition. We're happy to be in a beautiful place that has free wifi so we can talk to everyone back in the states. Hi mom and dad!

Earlier today we had a chance to sightsee around Vienna. It is absolutely my favorite place I've ever been. The city is set up in a loop-shape which makes it easy to navigate. Yesterday some of us walked around and saw the cathedrals, parliament, and castles. There were gorgeous parks with statues, fountains, flowers, and lush greens. This morning a group of us went to Schonbrunn Palace. This is where the emperor and his family would go to vacation. We felt very accomplished as we navigated the subway system and found our way there. The palace was gigantic with acres of land which included a zoo. Some of us took a grand tour of the palace which allowed us to tour the entire first floor. The chandeliers alone were works of art. Included in the tour was a hand-held audio-guide so we could get the inside scoop on what happened in each room. My personal favorite was the ballroom where Mozart performed when he was six years old for a large group of people. It was a true brush with fame. Other people took carriage rides around the grounds which had perfectly-manicured trees and bushes. It was truly so magnificent.



Tomorrow we have a full day planned! We are going to do a ropes course, and then an alpine slide down the steep mountain. I can say that's something I've never done before. Then in the afternoon we will play a match versus the Croatian National Team.

I want to make sure all the boosters know how grateful we are for being able to take this trip. It's definitely an once-in-a-lifetime experience to be able to travel with so many of your good friends. We are so lucky to have all of your support. I will cherish this trip forever. I look forward to seeing everyone and sharing more stories once we get back to the states. Ciao!

May 8, 2013: On To Vienna!

After a great time in Prague, it was finally time to start making our way to Vienna. A 9 AM we packed up the bus and began our four hour bus ride. As for the people who enjoy scenery, this is was beautiful ride down the coast of the Czech border and a fantastic photo opportunity. We saw everything from beautiful fields to architecture that is nothing but a fantasy in the states. And as for everyone else...the ride was the perfect nap time. About three hours into the trip we made a 20 minute pit stop. Turned out we stopped at a gift shop with cool European candy and souvenirs. I bought a Milka Chocolate Bar, a popular brand in Europe. After two more hours we finally made it to our destination, beautiful Vienna, Austria.

After checking into our rooms at the Marriott we had the opportunity to tour the city just about all day. It was great to see the different styles of architecture and the awesomeness of a new European city. Most of us walked out to the Parliament building and the historical castles that line the outskirts of the main ring. We took pictures then continued our journey to a park in the center of town.

After that a few of the girls and I stopped at a cute little Austrian restaurant for lunch. It consisted of a typical meal with potatoes and some variation of meat. Although the language barrier was tough, it was nice to completely immerse ourselves in the culture. All in all, I consider Vienna a success. A new city always brings great opportunities to experience a new way if life.

Until next time,

May 7, 2013: Hello from Prague!

Hallo from Prague!!
What an incredible experience! First of all, I just want to thank all of our boosters for your outstanding generosity in making this trip possible. We know none of us would be experiencing such a one-of-a-lifetime trip without you, and from the entire team we can't thank you enough! While we wish we could spend the trip with all of you, we hope our blogs and pictures will at least give you a taste of our travels. We miss you all!

This morning we started with another nice breakfast at the hotel, complete with about 17 different types of bread and pastries, Nutella, scrambled eggs, cold cuts, and caprese salad (mozzerella, tomatoes, basil, and olive oil)--which was a little bit of a mix-up for most of us. Our whole group then headed to the Charles Bridge, which is a very famous landmark for the Czech Republic, and connects the "Old Town" to the "New Town" of Prague. The view and the bridge itself were absolutely beautiful. Thankfully we were there early enough in the day that it wasn't too crowded, and we could meander about and check out all the statues as we pleased. Once we crossed the bridge, our tour guide took us to see the Old Town Square. There was a really neat Astronomical Clock there, which depicts the "Walk of the Apostles." We were told it is a very popular pickpocketing site, since at every hour all the tourists are focused on the moving figurines instead of their purses and wallets. Thankfully we made it without any incident!

We had a couple hours on our own after our tour of Old Town Square--some of us went shopping in the little shops, and some found other cool sites to see and take model-esque pictures in front of. :) I have to say I think my favorite part of the city was the cobblestone streets and roads everywhere. But we couldn't decide how in the world they could possibly plow for snow!

Later in the afternoon the team took the tram to the gym to warm up for our second match against the Praha Seniors. We traded games the whole match but ended up losing 15-13 in the 5th. It definitely wasn't the way we wanted to start the trip but it showed that we can't take the level of play here any less serious than the Big 10, and we all need to step it up for our next matches.

After the match we all headed to the same restaurant from the first night for a traditional Czech meal. It started with a beef and potato stew, which was delicious and quite the crowd-pleaser. The main course was a really common Czech dish--goulash with dumplings. After we were all stuffed to the max, the dessert was three mini pancake-type cakes with a blueberry sauce. Carp informed us that blueberry pancakes are her favorite so needless to say she was in Heaven, and we all left with purple tongues.

Overall, another awesome day on an amazing trip. Again, thank you to all the boosters for your incredible support in making this all possible!

Known as the "City of a Thousand Spires" Prague has seen it all. Centuries of kings, classical composers, invading Nazis and Soviet tanks and now the Penn State women's volleyball team have all passed over Prague's cobblestones.

So on our stay, we saw the many Baroque churches, the royal palace, flagstone courtyards all in which lay within Prague's castle. In fact, this castle is the largest castle area in the world composing of 18 acres. All of the architecture and artwork is incredible and covered in detail. However nothing was quite like viewing Prague's romantic skyline, and view from on top of the hill (where the Castle sits) to the city below.

Of course, important to talk about is the food. It scarcely matters which place you select expect menus with staples of tender, seasoned pork, mildly sweet cabbage and soft dumplings to soak up the rich sauce. Desert favorites include crepes or dumplings filled with fruit.

As for the fun facts:

Did you know...

That Prague is known for being having some of the biggest beer drinkers? - Czech's drink more beer per capita than other country in the world and each head will sink about 43 gallons a year- dang!

During the Middle Ages turning minerals into gold was a hugely popular fashion among the elite. - The mark of ones status was magician- oooo ahhhh!!

Writers and academics have claimed to have felt strange and disturbing tremors coming from under the ground. - Dark alleys and desolate squares have been known to produce many eerie sounds.... Can you say ghosts??

And the first ever sugar cubes were made in 1841- yumm!

On behalf of the team, we would like to thank you boosters for sending us on the trip of a lifetime. We promise to work harder on the court to represent Penn State well and make you all proud.

May 5, 2013

Today was our first traveling day. The day started in an uproar as we scrambled around the locker room at 10 in the morning. Just about all of us had over-packed and were struggling to get our bags under 50 pounds. Despite the hectic start we were all extremely excited. By 11, we were settled on the bus accompanied by boosters headed to Philly. The 3-hour ride was very chill. We spent the time snacking, napping, jamming to music and talking about our hopes for Europe.

In Philly we headed to the gate boarding for Atlanta. As soon as we checked in we rushed to the food court. We ate giant ice cream cones but could only think about how much better the gelato in Europe was going to taste. We were loaded with no problem and within 2 hours the girls and I were in the Peach State. After waiting about an hour, we were boarding our flight to Amsterdam, making our trip officially international.

The plane was huge with three giant compartments and six stewardesses all dressed in bright blue. Each of their accents stuck out as they said hello to us as we boarded. All different types of languages were being spoken on the plane. Even the announcements came on in four different tongues. When we took off it was rainy and the skies were rough so the ride was bumpy. But even Lacey, who is not fond of flying, still made it through.

Eight hours and two airplane meals later the group was getting their passports stamped. I was amazed by the size of the airport, AMS being one of the biggest hubs in all of Europe. There were all kinds of shops, from Gucci to cigar shops. Because of a previous delay we didn't have much time to explore before starting the final leg of our trip.

As the crew got on our final plane to Prague we were all pooped. Flying above the countryside was breathtaking. The view of rolling hills and clusters of small towns was almost like flying over Happy Valley. The small jet got us to the Czech in two hours flat.

Even though the time spent getting to Prague was just the beginning of the trip it was also a time of bonding and memory making.
